After the policemen lobbed incendiary and tear gas bombs into the house, Raymond fled and was shot dead under a hail of machine gun bullets. He had held the state police and others at bay for nine hours at his home in the mountain community of Chalkhill.

Mountaineer Slain After He Kills 4 and Wounds 5

Uniontown, Pa. — Why sharpshooter Daniel Raymond killed four passersby and wounded five others before being shot dead himself remained a mystery today to residents in the nearby mountain community of Chalkhill.

Although Raymond's wife indicated the shooting spree was touched off by his, "nervousness," there were no clear-cut answers.

State police, protected by a tank, cut down the 42-year-old Raymond with a hail of machine gun bullets as he fled his burning home, climaxing a long battle. Incendiary and tear gas bombs lobbed from the tank had set the home afire.

The mountaineer saw a doctor only Feb. 16 because he was nervous, his wife said. Raymond, a pipeline worker for a natural gas company, had a reputation among the mountain folk in this southwestern Pennsylvania area for being a crack shot. He did his lethal shooting from the second story of his home, located about 50 feet from a rural road.

Traffic Shut Off
Police shut off the road to all traffic, but this didn't stop Raymond. For the full nine hours he shot at almost everything that moved — cars and trucks. Only once did he fail to fire at a moving vehicle. This was a school bus carrying about 50 youngsters.

"He might have been reloading when the school bus passed," said a state trooper. "We'll never know why he didn't fire at those kiddies."

The tragedy began to unfold shortly before 8 a.m. and ended Turn to Page 6, Col. 1

Both men have been taking antibiotics as a precaution. "I feel fine — I should be back on the job," said the New York Reilly, who has been kept isolated at home. He said he has applied mouth resuscitation in other cases and would do it again.

Survey Forecasts Production Hike For Papermakers

APPA Economist Sees Increase of Nearly 4 Per Cent in Tonnage

New York — Production capacity of the nation's paper and paperboard industry will increase 3.8 per cent in 1960, a trade survey reported today.

Benjamin Slatin, economist of the American Paper and Pulp association, said total capacity in place at the end of the year was expected to rise to 123,290 tons a day from 118,770 tons at the end of 1959. In terms of the industry's historic 310 to 313 days per year of operation, this would raise annual capacity to 38,699,000 tons from 37,289,000 tons a year earlier.

Slatin's figures were included in a report submitted to the APPA executive committee and board of governors in connection with the joint survey conducted by the APPA and the National Paperboard association.

The report came as 5,000 delegates to the APPA's 83rd annual convention met for the final day's sessions. Closed committee meetings were scheduled for most groups, as they were Wednesday.

The 5-day convention winds up tonight with the annual dinner, at which the main speaker will be Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Star and president of the Associated Press.

The survey report of a 3.8 per cent gain in production capacity this year predicted an increase of about 3.8 per cent for paper and about 3.9 per cent for paperboard. Further gains in the next two years are expected to bring capacity by the end of 1962 to 129,250 tons a day or 50,566,000 tons on the historic annual basis.

The biggest increases in board capacity will be centered Turn To Page 3, Col. 3

Driver of Bus With 22 Aboard Killed in Crash With Truck

The bus driver was killed. He was Leland S. Cummins, 50, Lexington.

All the passengers were taken to a Richmond infirmary, but only one was believed hurt seriously. He was Robert Caylor, 44, of Detroit. Doctors said his left leg was broken.

Late Winter Storm Covers Texas And Arkansas With Heavy Snow

Little Rock, Ark. — A late winter storm in a wide area of the south has dumped heavy snows on Arkansas and Texas and caused seven highway deaths.

Snow ranging from two to seven inches covered Arkansas today, snarling traffic throughout the state.

The band of snow extended from west Texas to Louisville, Ky. Seven inches of snow fell at Lubbock, Texas.

5 Die in Crash
Four high school basketball players and the father of one of the boys lost their lives in a highway wreck near Paris, Ark., during a snowstorm last night.

The players were returning from a district tournament at Dover. They were members of the Oden High school team which lost to Hartford 64-53.

Driver of the car was Ray Irons, 43, principal of the high school. He and his son, Gary, 15, died an hour apart at a Paris hospital. The other three players in the car died soon after the collision.

Besides the five, two other Arkansas fatalities were blamed on hazardous road conditions. The weather bureau placed an area from Arkansas to eastern Kentucky under a heavy snow warning yesterday.

Six to seven inch falls of snow were common in northern and eastern Arkansas. Little Rock had five inches. There was no major snowfall in Kentucky, at the other end of the storm belt.

Racing Called Off
The snow caused cancellation of today's horse racing card at Oaklawn park at Hot Springs, Ark. Track officials expected to be able to resume racing tomorrow.

The storm began in central Arkansas about noon yesterday and spread north and south. It was controlled by a low pressure cell developing over southern Louisiana.

Highway patrols in the various states urged motorists to proceed with caution as freezing temperatures turned snow on roads into an icy glaze.

Two traffic deaths in Arkansas were attributed to slick road conditions.

Musicians Of U. S. Navy Included

Rio de Janeiro — A U.S. Navy DC4 and a Brazilian plane collided today near Sugar Loaf mountain. The DC4 plummeted into Guanabara bay. A Brazilian air force spokesman said he believed it had aboard 40 men believed to be members of a U.S. military band.

The U. S. Navy plane was said to carry the number 13582.

The White House said in Washington that 23 navy band and orchestra members and a crew of seven were aboard the plane.

U. S. military helicopters, providing transportation at spots for President Eisenhower on his trip to four Latin American countries, are helping in rescue work. There have been no reports of survivors, according to the White House.

Instruments Recovered
The second plane was identified by the Brazilian air force spokesman as a C46 or DC3 of the Real line, a big domestic carrier in Brazil.

President Eisenhower was in Sao Paulo when the collision occurred.

He had paraded along the drive facing Guanabara bay yesterday.

Reports from the Rio Yacht club, near the scene of the collision, said some musical instruments had been pulled from the water along with nine bodies.

A U.S. Marine band came to Rio last week and participated yesterday in the parade honoring Eisenhower. It was to have flown to Buenos Aires, Argentina, today to take part in ceremonies honoring President Eisenhower there tomorrow.

Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, said the musicians were not assigned to the Eisenhower trip but went to South America 10 days ahead and happened to be in the area during the president's visit.

Navy band headquarters said the director of the band, Comdr. Charles Brendler, was with the band in Brazil.

Several survivors were reported, but first indications were that some of these came from the commercial plane.

Blackmail Alleged

British Playboy Named In Riviera Villa Theft

London — A British playboy was accused today of blackmailing the daughter of Hollywood movie magnate Jack Warner into standing by while he stole $70,000 of her father's money.

The allegation was made at a court hearing on a French plea for extradition of Michael "Dandy Kim" Caborn-Waterfield, 30.

The Briton was found guilty by a French court in 1956 of robbing Warner's safe in a Riviera villa, and sentenced in absentia to four years in jail.

An attorney for the French government declared the theft occurred during a party at the villa which Miss Barbara Warner gave on Aug. 25, 1953. Her father was in Rome at the time. The French government lawyer, Michel Koenig, introduced in evidence a statement by Miss Warner which said in part:

"About 9:30 p.m., before dinner, Kim took my arm and led me aside. He said he needed more than 100,000 francs to pay his hotel bill and leave the Riviera."

Just Stood By
"He asked me if I knew where the key of my father's safe was and said that if I did not help him to find it he would tell my father about things that happened the previous year."

"Under this threat of blackmail we went to the first floor and in my presence he searched in my father's bureau for the keys. I did not tell him where the keys were, I just stayed there."

"He found the keys and he opened the cupboard the safe was in and then the safe."

Miss Warner's statement said Caborn-Waterfield removed several bundles of 1,000-franc notes and they left the room. Later in the evening, the statement continued, Caborn-Waterfield told another British guest, Robert Mackew, that there was still a lot of money in the safe.

"At least Barbara will say nothing," Miss Warner quoted Mackew.

Eisenhower Hails Private Enterprise

Half Million Brazilians Cheer Him in Heavy Rain

BY STANFORD BRADSHAW

Sao Paulo, Brazil — President Eisenhower doffer his gray felt hat and rode bareheaded in a heavy rain today to acknowledge the cheers of a half million or more fans in this industrial heart of Brazil. Confetti and ticker tape littered drenched streets.

Later at a luncheon Eisenhower extolled the free enterprise system and pledged continued U. S. support for Brazil's economic development.

Opportunity without discrimination is a vital aspect of democracy in both Brazil and the United States, he said, and freedom in the long run yields the most productive economic system ever devised by man.

Scores Discrimination
"Our socially conscious private enterprise system benefits all the people, owners and workers alike," he said. "It has resulted in high productivity, high consumption, high wages, and reasonable return on investment. Brazil is our watchword."

"In freedom the Brazilian worker is happily demonstrating the joys of life under a democratic system."

Speaking of opportunity without discrimination, he said:

"We believe fervently that no one should be denied the chance for the fruits of self-betterment because of his race, religion, sex, class or political beliefs."

Eisenhower pledged that "within our financial and economic capacity, we shall continue to support Brazilian development." Brazil has received more than $24 billion in U. S. Public and private credits.

Enthusiastic Greeting

A thousand guests attended the luncheon, sponsored by the Commercial association, the Industrial association, and the Rural society.

Brazilians danced, jumped and shouted in the rain in their enthusiasm over Eisenhower's visit. The temperature was 70.

There was no police estimate of the crowd's size but the best guesses ran to at least a half million.

About 14,000 trucking industry workers will receive a 1 cent an hour raise on a different adjustment basis.

There will be no wage change for about one million workers in the auto and related products industries.

The labor department also reported that spendable earnings of factory workers remained at a record high in January.

Hear New Evidence On Missile Strength

Some Democrats Still Confused, Republicans Say Everything Is Clarified by Allen W. Dulles

Washington — Some Senate Democrats say they're still confused about the hearing new testimony by Allen W. Dulles on relative U.S. Soviet missile strength.

Republicans say there's nothing to be confused about. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, spent another five hours Wednesday testifying behind closed doors to the senate space and preparedness committees.

When he appeared before the groups earlier this year, he presented what some Democrats interpreted a less optimistic view than that of some military men on the American position in the missile race. Some of the subcommittee Democrats promptly said the Dulles testimony left them confused.

The chairman of the two groups, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas), said after Wednesday's session that Dulles presented some new material that may prove helpful to committee members after study, Johnson added.

"But I could not say the confusion has been clarified... it is amazing how difficult it is to get a simple statement of facts."

Sens. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) joined in saying Dulles had removed all confusion.

Saltonstall said Dulles had clarified his earlier testimony. Case said Dulles "has never been confused in his testimony or confused anybody."

Kennedy Sees Elimination for Primary Loser

Humphrey Opens Tour Tonight In Key Cities

By The Associated Press

Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) has started another 3-day tour of Wisconsin with the declaration that the loser in the state's April 5 primary probably will be eliminated from contention for the Democratic nomination for president.

Apparently Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), who will be Kennedy's opponent in the primary, feels the same way. He is starting a similar tour tonight, following Kennedy in several strategic Wisconsin communities.

Both men are seeking the state's 31 Democratic national convention votes.

Heads North

Kennedy made two speeches in Madison and one in Portage Wednesday before heading for the northern part of the state where he had addresses planned in the 2nd, 7th, 8th and 10th Congressional districts. Major addresses were scheduled at Wausau tonight and at Eau Claire Friday night.

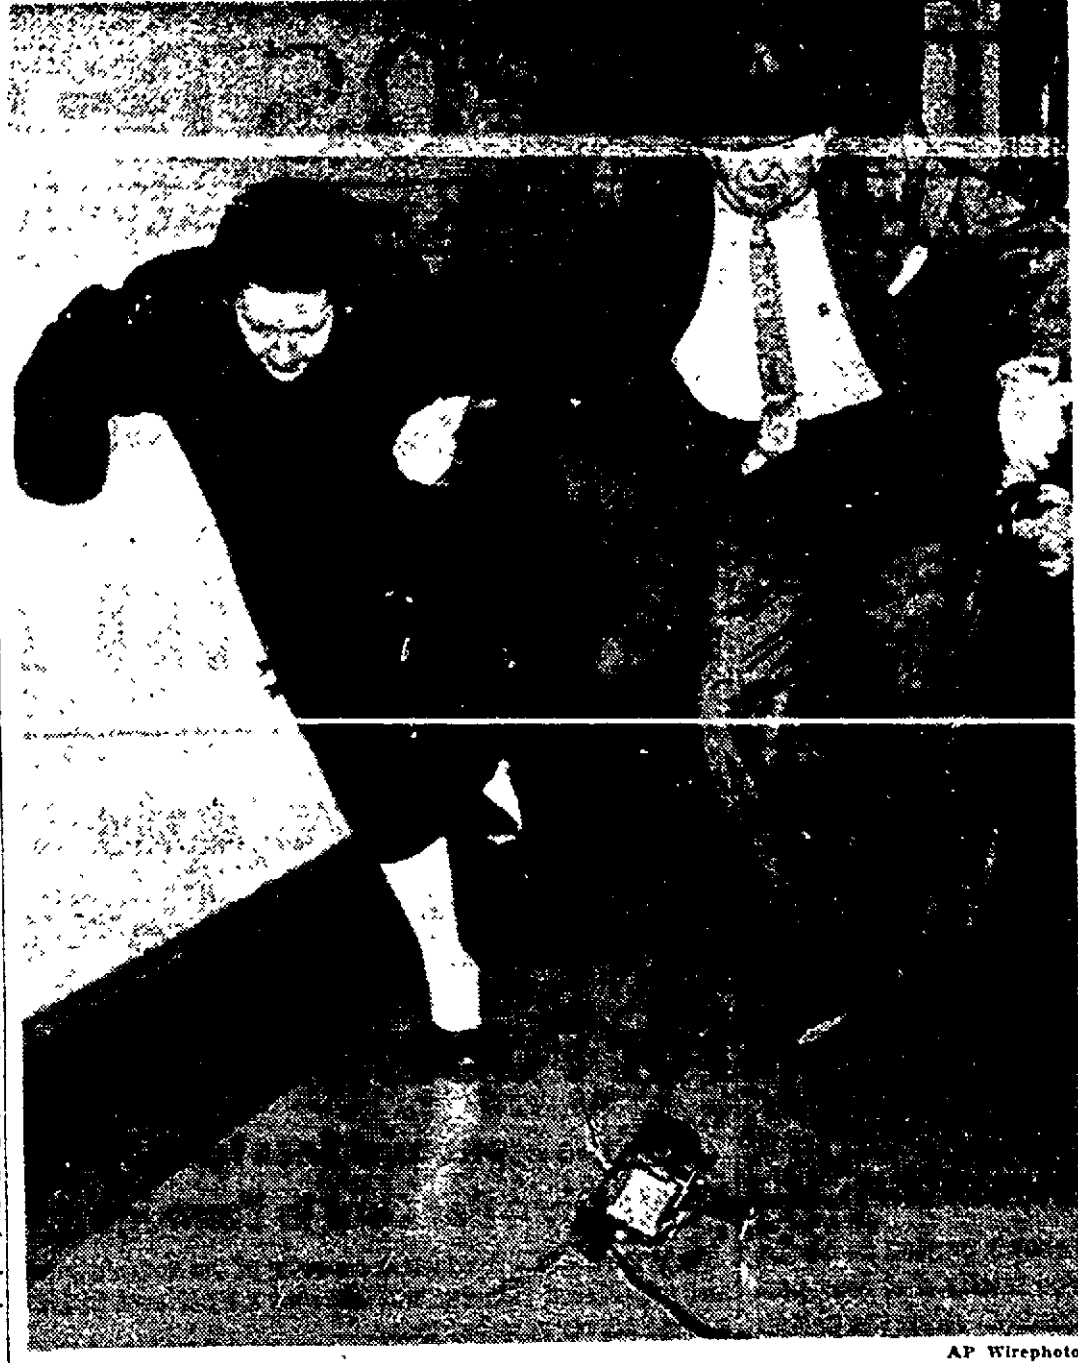

"No serious presidential candidate can afford to pass up the Wisconsin primary," Kennedy said at his first Madison meeting.

At a reception at Madison Wednesday night Kennedy urged support for only those presidential aspirants who are willing to run in the primaries.

He said that Vice President Richard M. Nixon entered the Wisconsin contest despite the fact that he knows the nomination is all set for him.

"If Nixon can do it," he added, "then it seems any Democratic contender should come to Wisconsin and meet the voters."

Two candidates for the Republican governor nomination continued their campaign tours Wednesday. They are Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells who was at Merrill and Philip G. Kuehn of Milwaukee, who talked at Lake Geneva.

Julie Hurwitz, an Election official in Philadelphia's Fifth ward, tussles with Philadelphia Inquirer photographer Anthony Riccardi as both lunged for the camera which Miss Hurwitz had pulled from Riccardi's neck. The camera broke as it hit the floor outside city hall where Miss Hurwitz was questioned in connection with alleged voting irregularities in her ward. Miss Hurwitz and another woman sought to prevent news photographers from taking pictures.

Israeli Says Strong Egyptian Forces in Gaza Strip Movement

Syrian Authorities Close Border With Jordan as Security Measure

Tel Aviv, Israel — Strong contingents of Egyptian troops, supported by heavy armor and artillery, are moving into the Gaza strip, Israeli sources said today.

An Israeli army spokesman refused to confirm or deny the reports but said, "We are watching developments closely."

Troop movements have been reported on both sides of Israel's borders with the United Arab Republic.

Syrian authorities closed the border with Jordan today. They said the closure would last "for a short period as a security measure."

Officials were given no details, but it has been reported here that President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, now touring his Syrian province, would be visiting the border area today. It has been the scene of clashes between tribesmen and soldiers in past months.

There had been earlier reports of Egyptian troop concentrations in the Kusseima area, southwest of the Israeli-Egyptian border, and at other strategic points along the frontier separating Israel's Negev desert and Egypt's Sinai peninsula.

Arab informants in Beirut said the bulk of the Egyptian army has moved into the Sinai desert — ready to strike from the south into the Negev should Israel pose a threat to Damascus on the north.

Nasser charged three days ago that Israel was mobilizing and massing troops on the Israeli-Syrian border, but an Israeli military spokesman labeled the charge "utter nonsense."

Arab sources in Lebanon said Wednesday, however, that U.A.R. intelligence had confirmed that three Israeli brigades have moved up to the Syrian border, where a series of clashes took place recently. Despite new tension, middle east observers believed neither Nasser nor Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion wants an outbreak of fighting now.

But the Egyptians have made no great effort to conceal military moves. Persons arriving in Lebanon from Cairo said the Egyptian army is in a state of alert, reserves have been called up, some hospitals have been requisitioned, and highways have been closed for troop movements.

Says Loan From Sen. McCarthy Was Not Repaid

Lansing, Mich. — Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), a candidate for the U. S. senate, said Wednesday night that $3,000 he loaned the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in 1950 was never repaid.

Bentley said he agreed in a 1955 telephone conversation to consider the money a gift after McCarthy professed "complete inability" to repay the loan.

Bentley said the matter was never thereafter discussed with McCarthy.

He explained the transaction after Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler raised the issue when Bentley announced for the senate.

Bentley said he offered money to McCarthy because of what he said was a keen desire to help other persons who, like himself at the time, were "focusing public attention on the communist menace."

Censorship of TV Useless, Says Van Doren

Government Could Not Help Already Clean Industry

New York — Charles Van Doren, a central figure in the rigged television show scandal, says censorship of TV by the government would be useless.

TV is already fairly clean and not in need of extensive overseeing, he says.

In an article in Leisure magazine Wednesday, Van Doren broke the silence he had maintained since last November about the scandal, which cost him his $50,000-a-year job with NBC and his teaching post at Columbia university.

TV is Nice

Van Doren, an associate editor of the magazine, discussed some of his personal philosophical attitudes in the article.

He said "television is nice." "Almost everybody in television is as nice as the things he talks about," he added. "Nice people don't have to be censored. They won't use words that are unacceptable. They won't ask questions they shouldn't ask."

The editors of Leisure magazine said in introducing the article that Van Doren had been "crucified by the clan of sanctimonious pundits collectively described as the American press." The editors said they find Van Doren to be "chastised but resolute."

Hit FBI Idea

In arguing against censorship of TV, he opposed the suggestion made by NBC President Robert E. Kintner that the industry hire a former FBI agent to check on its operations. Van Doren said that seems to him to be like "using a pile-driver to kill a mouse."

Van Doren confessed before a congressional subcommittee last fall that he had received answers in advance in winning $129,000 on the NBC-TV show "Twenty-One," which has gone off the air.

The network dismissed him from his $50,000-a-year job as consultant and commentator. Columbia university accepted his resignation as an instructor in English.

Red Chinese Try to Discredit Ike's Tour

Propaganda Outburst Even Startles Some U. S. Officials Used to Drumfire

Washington — Communist China is firing its heaviest propaganda guns at President Eisenhower in an all-out effort to discredit his present Latin American tour.

The violence of the outburst has startled even some U. S. officials long accustomed to a steady drumfire from Peiping on any and all American policies.

Deceptive Activities

Samples from recently intercepted Peiping broadcasts now reaching a crescendo in the hate-America campaign run like this:

"U. S. President Eisenhower is forced to make a personal trip (to Latin America) to carry out conniving and deceptive activities... Latin America which the United States has always considered its 'backyard' has become the very front lines opposing U. S. imperialism... Recent events have proven that the intervening and aggressive activities of U. S. imperialism against the Latin American countries have been wilder, more savage and more despicable than ever before..."

Streams of this material are pouring out over Peiping radio daily. Spanish has recently become the second language after English in the Red Chinese overseas broadcasts.

Why all the vitriol?

3 Major Aims

U. S. officials see three major aims by Peiping in its Latin American offensive:

1. To disrupt the solidarity of the western hemisphere by every possible means.
2. To break the solid Latin American lineup in the United Nations and gain support among these largely Roman Catholic countries for admission of Peiping to the U.N.
3. To build up South American differences with the United States into a full scale "revolt" which would increase Peiping's chances for diplomatic recognition among the hemisphere nations.

Communist China first turned its attention to Latin America in 1952 but began accelerating its activities in 1956 when a training school for Latin American communists was established in Peiping. In 1958 its Latin broadcasts were doubled and then boosted another 50 per cent last year.

Allis Chalmers Sales Show Rise

Milwaukee — The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company reported Tuesday that record third and fourth quarter sales brought the firm's 1959 sales to $539,640,773 — $7½ million more than sales from the previous year.

Third quarter sales were $166,622,772 and fourth quarter $151,791,511.

Net earnings after preferred stock dividend requirements amounted to $22,446,604, equal to $2.47 per share of common stock, and approximately $3 million more than in 1958.

The big machinery firm's annual report notes that the sales and earnings "were accomplished despite the effects of the steel strike and an 11-week strike in 10 of the company's plants during the first two quarters of 1959."

Taxpayers, Railroads Have Good Things Happen at Times

Washington — Good things happen to taxpayers, sometimes. Take the case of the New York Central railroad.

The internal revenue service concluded some time back that the railroad had overpaid its 1941-44 taxes by more than $85½ million. As a result, the New York Central got refunds, credits and interest payments totaling more than $86 million.

This whopping transaction came to light today in a list of big refunds approved in 1958 by the senate-house committee on internal revenue taxation. The committee has to approve all refunds of more than $100,000.

Biggest Amount

The New York Central item was the biggest on the list. IRS said it could not discuss details of the case because of legal prohibitions against disclosing the affairs of taxpayers.

Many of the listed refunds stemmed from tax court cases. IRS collected what it claimed was due from some taxpayers, then had to settle for less and refund the difference.

In other cases, taxpayers were able to convince the agency that they had paid more than was due.

Gambler Credit

While corporations accounted for most of the 280 big refunds in the tabulation for the 12 months which ended June 30, 1958, some went to individuals.

New York Gambler Frank Erickson and his wife, for instance, got credits, refunds and interest payments totaling $2,230,775. This resulted from settlement of a tax court case.

In addition to the New York Central, nine corporations got refunds, credits, abatements and interest payments of more than $3 million each.

Companies Paid

The companies, and the amounts, were: Westinghouse Electric corporation, Pittsburgh, $8,045,739; General Dynamics corporation, San Diego, Calif., $7,799,284; Beech Aircraft corporation, Wichita, Kan., $7,390,205; C.N.I. Liquidating company (formerly Clinton Foods), St. Louis, $5,192,046;

Celanese corporation, New York City, $4,815,553; Seaboard Lines, New York City, $4,590,360; Barber Oil corporation, New York City, $3,812,845; Motor Products corporation, Detroit, $3,431,242; and Standard Oil corporation (New Jersey), New York City, $3,395,273.

Prospect of Senate Race By 2 Women

Rumford, Maine — A prospect of the nation's first contest between two women for the U. S. senate exists today in Maine.

Miss Cormier will seek the Democratic nomination for the senate seat of Republican Margaret Chase Smith.

A race between the two will depend on the outcome of the primaries on June 20.

Mrs. Smith, lone woman in the senate, has no opposition in her bid for renomination, and none is expected. But Miss Cormier will have to beat Thomas L. Maynard of Portland, a mutual fund salesman and former state representative.

By background and character, Miss Cormier, 48, and Mrs. Smith, 62, are similar in many ways. Both are former school teachers, and both have made something of an impact on their respective political levels.

Mrs. Smith was the first woman elected to the senate in her own right, and she is the first woman to have served in both branches of congress.

Miss Cormier, on the other hand, is the first woman to be named minority leader of the Maine house, where she has served 12 years.

Like Mrs. Smith she has a reputation for being firm, forthright and conscientious in her pursuit of legislative duties.

Steel Union Head to Ask Ike for Meetings

Granite City, Ill. — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers union, said last night he will ask President Eisenhower to appoint a permanent committee of 10 or 12 business and labor leaders to meet with the president at least six times a year and discuss pressing problems.

McDonald spoke at a civic banquet.

Earlier, in St. Louis, he said that despite his praise of Vice President Nixon's role in helping settle the steel strike, he would support the Democratic candidate for president. He added that he has not decided which Democrat he likes best.

Thilmany President Decries Food Packaging Regulations

McCorison Tells APPA Federal Law Could Cause Confusion

New York — The paper industry could be tossed into turmoil by the new federal law requiring government clearance of all food packaging materials, a Wisconsin producer said today.

Guy E. McCorison, president of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company in Kaukauna, said the food additives amendment which takes effect March 6 "could cause widespread confusion if some papers fail to get clearance."

"How would the food involved move? How would the packagers get new sources? The magnitude of this thing confounds the whole industry."

McCorison is here attending the 83rd annual convention of the American Paper and Pulp association.

Paper production "will definitely go higher this year," McCorison said. "We think there is a backlog in demand. If we can keep up with the demand, we and others like us will continue to grow."

The profit picture will not be so rosy, McCorison added, "unless rising costs can be reflected in higher productivity by labor." He said some prices may be boosted this year.

Package Answer

Paper combined with plastics or foil, or both, can enable those materials to do packaging jobs they could not handle alone, a paper industry scientist said today.

Paper plus plastics, paper plus foil or paper plus plastics and foil often is the answer in packing application, Dr. E. R. Laughlin of the Institute of Paper Chemistry of Appleton said.

Such combinations have helped contribute to the steadily rising per capita consumption of paper in this country, he added, and also helped to replace the orange crate and gunny sack.

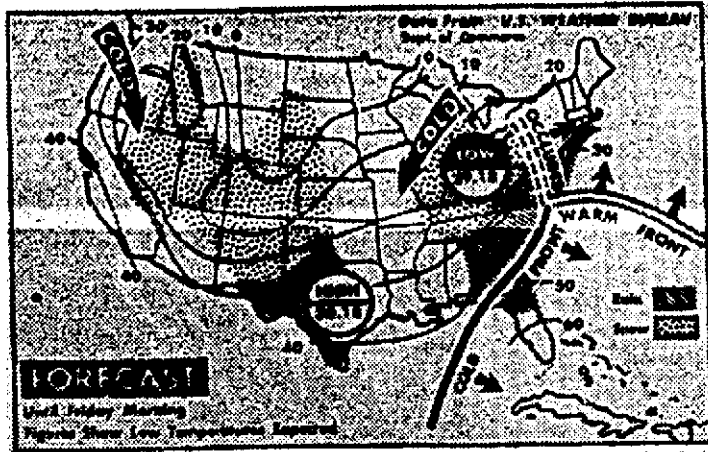

A Wisconsin machinery maker today mounted a display extolling the nation's paper industry.

Beloit Iron Works, a 102-year old producer of high-speed paper machinery, introduced the exhibit at the closing session of the APPA annual convention.

The display features original drawings saluting paper producers for their conservation and reforestation policies.

"Almost alone among the huge users of basic materials," according to Beloit, "the paper industry is able and determined to replace what it consumes."

A Beloit spokesman said the display, which is portable, will be shipped around the country for showing at paper mills, institutions, conventions and various meetings.

Flurries to Fall Here At Intervals

Snow flurries began falling in the Fox Cities about 10:15 a. m. today and are expected to fall intermittently into Saturday.

The southern portions of the state are getting ready for another two to three inches of snow from storms blowing in from the southwest.

Cold weather and cloudy skies are expected for the Fox Cities, in great contrast to the storms ripping across the south and west.

Winty snow and sleet storms, dealing crippling blows as they swept across Southwest sections, spread into the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys today.

Warnings of heavy snow — four inches or more — were issued by the weather bureau for areas in a band 100 to 200 miles wide from Arkansas northeast through southeast Missouri, most of Kentucky and southeast Ohio.

Rain and freezing rain which pelted northern sections of Louisiana and Mississippi and central and west Tennessee were expected to change to snow in many areas. The snow line extended into southern parts of Illinois and Indiana, with snow in prospect for other parts of the two states.

Glenn Arthur Guest Speaker at Color Advertising Forum

Glenn H. Arthur, Post-Crescent director of advertising, was a guest speaker at an advertising color forum Tuesday in Richmond, Va.

The forum, sponsored by Richmond Newspapers, Inc., was conducted to explain the use and effects of color newspaper advertising to retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers, and advertising agencies in the Richmond area.

Arthur spoke on "Building Sales Through ROP Color," and illustrated the talk with slides of color newspaper advertisements.

He cited specific examples of sales gains through color and compared sales results of black and white with color advertisements.

Rain and Rain mixed with snow are forecast for the middle and south Atlantic states tonight while snow flurries are expected in the Lakes region and in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. The southern plains will have rain mixed with snow and snow flurries are expected from the Rockies eastward to the plains states.

The survey noted that expansion plans for 1962 probably are not completely established and "may, therefore, deviate somewhat from the final figures." Any slowdown in demand could cause a stretch-out in the rate of expansion, it said, while a quickening of demand could lead to a speed up in the rate of completion.

Charlie's Column a Pillar of Puns Mayhap Pilloried but Meant in Fun

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

I wish I knew how far back into history goes the pun. It must surely be as old as language and humor, for its very nature is infectious. Really good puns are not as common as one would like to have them, but they are not "the lowest form of wit," as has been said.

Alexandre Dumas, the elder, once wrote: "Far be it from me to insult the pun! I honor it in proportion to its merits — no more." And a good pun has merits indeed.

But Charles Lamb, that sensitive soul, was above the use of the pun. He said sourly, "A pun is a pistol let off at the ear; not a feather to tickle the intellect." Lamb was essaying on the subject of erroneous beliefs and the chapter was entitled: "Popular Fallacies: That the Worst Puns are the Best." But the flighty fellow later said of the pun "... it is as perfect as a sonnet; better."

In All Men

In the 16th century, John Denis wrote that a man who could make so vile a pun as he had heard would not hesitate to pick a pocket.

But Joseph Addison, I think, struck a nearer chord when he wrote these lines: "The seeds of punning are in the minds of all men, and though they may be subdued by reason, reflection and good sense, they will be very apt to shoot up in the greatest genius."

However, almost every man toys with puns from time to time, though with variable results.

One friend of mine, a merchant, was introduced to a pair of Scandinavians who were brothers. One of the brothers was dark complexioned, the other was fair haired. Someone in the group spoke of this, and my friend said, "The dark haired one is a Norse of a different color."

The same friend who is skillful with the pun used an outrageous one on my old colleague, Lloyd Larson. Lloyd and I went into the merchant's store one day, and the merchant looked at Larson and said, "What can I celluloid?"

One Happy Medium

One apocryphal story has it that a young woman was having her fortune told when the medium told her something very amusing was soon to happen to her. Then he burst into laughter. She slapped his face and then explained that her mother had always told her to "strike a happy medium."

Another concerned a newspaperman who was assigned to report on a nudist colony which had sprung up near his community. He visited the place and an official of the colony asked him if he was one of the group.

"Oh, no," the reporter said, "I'm only aghast."

Italian Flavor

Some years ago an Italian consul named Mario had invited Louis Philippe to his home to meet his wife and children. The consul's wife was Madame Grisi. When Louis saw the children he said, "I suppose these are some of your little Grisettes?"

"No sire," said Mario's wife, "These are my little Marionettes."

It is also said that a learned judge of yore had decided to pronounce the subject of a trial guilty and sentenced him to be hanged. At the end of the trial he said, "Oh, well, I think we had better let the subject drop."

An excellent pun which dates back to well over a century was uttered by John Toler, the first Earl of Norbury and a justice.

A Legal Eagle?

An Irish lawyer was trying a case before Justice Toler and his appeal was on the sanctity of a man's home. Said he: "The sun and the rain may enter a man's home, but nobody else—not the king himself."

Toler asked: "Not even the reigning king?"

And, if you will excuse a punning poem, this one by Thomas Hook contains many fine puns:

My little dears who learn to read, pray, early learn to shun

That very silly thing indeed, which people call a pun.

Read Entick's rules and 'twill be found how simple an offense

It is to make the self-same sound afford a double sense.

For instance, ale may

Doctors Selected As Nominees for Cancer Board

Dr. William Chandler and Dr. Paul Cunningham, both of Appleton, have been selected as nominees from Outagamie county for a post on the board of directors of the state unit of the American Cancer society.

The Sixth district committee, made up of district medical society representatives and cancer society members who have attended the annual meeting, will accept the nominations at a meeting at 5 p. m. Thursday at the Elks club. The meeting will be followed by a dinner.

Each of the eight counties in the Sixth district are permitted to name two doctors delegates for the post. The board member will be chosen by the president of the Wisconsin State Medical association.

Public Service Corp. Revenues Rise Sharply

Milwaukee — The Wisconsin Public Service corporation reported Wednesday that gross operating revenues rose to $46,478,000 during 1959, an increase of nearly $4 million over the previous year.

Net income amounted to $5,301,000 equivalent to $1.90 per common share, compared with $4,944,000 for 1958.

The utility's annual report also noted that construction expenditures for plant facilities to provide for increased use of electric and gas service total $11 million in 1959 and are estimated at $14 million for 1960.

through coming years, should desolously shun.

The fault admits of no defence, for whereso'er it's found

You sacrifice the sound for sense; the sense is never sound.

So let your words and actions, too, one single meaning prove,

And, wise in all you say and do, you'll gain esteem and love;

In mirth and play no harm you'll know, when duty's task is done,

And parents ne'er should let you go unpunished for a pun.

TB Test Shows Positive Rise In Appleton

5 Per Cent Rate in City Out of Line With State, County

Exposure to tuberculosis is on the rise in Appleton, a recent series of skin tests given fourth, eighth and eleventh graders in the city shows, the board of health learned Wednesday.

Of 2,478 children tested (91 per cent) by school nurses in conjunction with Riverview sanatorium personnel, 140 showed positive reactions. (A positive reaction means the individual has been exposed to tuberculosis, not that he has the disease.)

Fourth grade positive tests increased from 3.3 per cent last year to 6.9 per cent, eighth grade from 2.6 per cent last year to 5.5 per cent and eleventh grade from 1.8 per cent last year to 4 per cent. Fourth grade children traditionally have more posi-

The Appleton Memorial Hospital auxiliary gave a check for $3,000 to the hospital board Friday. In five years, the auxiliary has paid $78,000 on its 10-year $100,000 pledge.

Although it is not known if there was any connection, one bus driver who was found to have an active tubercular case did drive school buses, driving a school route. The big increase in the city is not followed in rural areas, where little, if any, increase was noted. The state and county positive reactors run about 2 per cent, compared to

The Big Issue

National defense is shaping up as the big issue of the 1960 campaign. This is a natural development and a good one for a number of reasons.

It is quite apparent that letting the Russians get ahead of us in missiles and space exploration is the most glaring weakness in the armor of the Eisenhower administration. It is, in fact, the only failure of really lasting importance in the administration's record which otherwise has been one of wisdom, courage and, on occasion, inspired leadership. Yet it may well turn out to be the failure that we could least afford.

David Lawrence and some others say that the Democrats should not make a campaign issue out of our defense posture; we disagree with this, as we formerly disagreed with the Democrats' contention, in the Roosevelt-Truman era, that foreign policy should not be a political issue. While it is true that national defense and foreign policy are subjects of such profound importance that the politician who undertakes to debate them must do so with a greater sense of responsibility than the breed is ordinarily called upon to display, to say that they should not be debated at all is to deny the beliefs on which our democratic system is founded. In a democratic society, when any issue is put "above" politics, it is placed beyond public examination and accounting, and perhaps eventually even beyond public awareness of its importance.

National defense, or more accurately, our military position vis a vis the Communist empire, must be debated openly and thoroughly for the simple reason that it may well involve the survival of all of us. No subject is of greater importance to the individual citizen today. We face a powerful, implacable and amoral enemy who would not hesitate to blast us off the face of the globe if he thought he could get away

A Little Help to Kennedy

Observers have known for a long time that many leaders in the Democratic party in Wisconsin still favor Adlai Stevenson for the presidential nomination despite his refusal to enter any of the primaries or to campaign actively for the position. A statement by Atty. Gen. John Reynolds last Sunday indicated that the dilemma has not been solved.

"I think it is readily apparent that we have only two nationally known Democrats," said Mr. Reynolds. "One is Gov. Adlai Stevenson and the other is Sen. John F. Kennedy. So as a practical matter we have to choose between these two men. In

New Way to Prevent Strokes

New miracles in medicine and surgery are reported every week. Recently some of a group of physicians, commenting upon the latest discoveries in the field of bone surgery, declared it would not be long until the surgeon finding a patient with the bones crushed and shattered in an arm or a leg would be able to remove the limb, take it to a bone surgery shop, repair it and later return it to the patient as good as new — or almost.

Medical specialists at Baylor University have developed a new X-ray technique which permits them to do something just as important as the bone surgery although perhaps not as spectacular. A substance has been developed which permits doctors to trace the flow of blood in an X-ray picture. If there is a block, a shadow appears on the film showing the exact location. In the past it has been impossible to locate such blocks exactly. Although blocks were known to cause strokes the treatment has been

Not All a Matter of Money

There have been so many educational studies and surveys made in recent years to determine how and where to improve our schools that many educators and parents are getting a little figure-happy. But one assumption, that the more money spent, the better the system, gets a disturbing look in a new study, financed by the United States Office of Education and carried out in New York state.

The study focused on tenth grade students in a variety of schools. It was found, despite equal ability of some youngsters, that many were as much as four years apart in scholastic accomplishment. So the survey then looked at the financial figures. The schools studied spent from $250 to $750 annually per pupil.

Students from wealthy urban areas did the best in school, it was determined, when their achievements were studied along with their abilities. Students from poverty-stricken areas did the poorest whatever

Rough Road For Nuclear Weapon Plan

President Eisenhower's proposal that we share nuclear weapons know-how, and the weapons themselves, with our allies, is destined for rough going when it reaches congress. The idea, however, is realistic.

As of now, the president is permitted to give a limited amount of information to al-with it. Everything we have fought for in all our wars, everything we have built up through three centuries as the American dream, could disappear in a few hours were we to give this enemy, even for a short period, an opportunity to attack us with impunity.

Thus we say such a debate is both necessary and good. The people must not be denied information that involves their very survival.

Much of the argument, of course, will concern whether we are spending enough money on defense. It is quite obvious there are not just two, but many schools of thought on this. The military leaders and civilian defense secretaries are divided among themselves on this question; so are politicians of both parties, and not always along party lines. Essentially the argument boils down to an assertion by critics of the administration that an obsession with a balanced budget is forcing us to spend less on military (and space) programs, and an answer by the administration that America's economic soundness is a vital factor in our military position, and that we cannot remain economically sound if we permit wild spending on government programs, military or otherwise.

We suspect that the real truth is that both sides are essentially right; that we should be spending more on our military and space programs, but that it would be folly to run any more government deficits. To admit this, however, is to accept the idea that we should impose higher taxes on our people, in other words, give up some of our luxuries in order to insure our survival. Politicians of any hue are unlikely to come up with this kind of an answer, but if the debate is pursued vigorously the politicians may discover (as has happened so often in the past) that the people are way ahead of them.

the Wisconsin primary, I am supporting Sen. Kennedy as I believe he is the better vote getter of the two. But certainly if we do not name Sen. Kennedy, we will have to name Gov. Stevenson."

This could be interpreted as merely a further blow to the efforts of Sen. Hubert Humphrey to get votes in the Wisconsin primary. But more likely it is an oblique way of keeping Adlai Stevenson's name in bold type. Mr. Reynolds seems to be way ahead of the primary, putting down convention guarantees in case Sen. Kennedy can't get the nomination no matter how well he shows up in the primaries.

limited to rest and the use of blood thinning medicines.

Now, however, since it is possible to locate the block it is possible to give immediate relief through surgery. In some cases the obstructed area of an artery can be cut out and the ends remaining in the body sewed together. In other cases, where the artery is too narrow, it can be widened by opening the side of the vessel, removing the obstruction and sewing a plastic patch over the opening. Coronet Magazine, which reports this interesting discovery, says that in the more difficult cases, the surgeon may cut out the afflicted area and replace it with a plastic tube. It reports that one patient who has undergone four operations for circulatory ailments has about 52 inches of plastic serving him as blood vessels. Considering the possibility that blindness, paralysis, and death may result from such blocks in the circulatory system, the discovery is a tremendously important one.

their potential. Students in the higher socio-economic strata profited the most from more money spent upon them. Average youngsters from average backgrounds profited only slightly from the extra money, while those from the lower economic levels showed practically no difference whether the amounts per year were $250 or $750.

Earlier surveys have shown that teachers are largely responsible for college attendance according to the students themselves. But this new report indicates that the home conditions, the attitudes of a youngster's parents and the point of view of his friends are equally important in determining not only how far in education he will go but how much he absorbs in secondary school.

The prime responsibility of our schools is to develop as far as possible the potential of every youngster. But the school alone cannot be held to blame when it isn't done.

lies who have shown "substantial" progress in the development of nuclear weapons. This limits the furnishing of such information to Britain. However, France is about to join the nuclear club with a test in the Sahara.

In the event of a world war, we would naturally hasten to supply nuclear weapons to the allies who would be fighting with us. It might take precious time to teach them how to use the weapons, however.

Actually, any nation which wants to spend the money can develop its own atomic weapons today. The basic

Do Something About Traffic Situation, Writer Tells Council

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The following is an article that appeared in Sunday's Milwaukee Journal.

"Fifteen Wisconsin municipalities, four of them in Milwaukee county, have been cited by the National Police Officers association for progress in reducing traffic injuries and fatalities in 1959.

"The four here are Shorewood, Wauwatosa, West Allis and Whitefish Bay. The others are Beloit, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Janesville, La Crosse, Manitowoc, Menasha, Oshkosh, Racine, Sheboygan and Wisconsin Rapids.

"The award commends members of the police departments for their enforcement of traffic regulations and 'materially reducing traffic accidents.'"

You will notice that Appleton is missing from the list. And one doesn't have to be a traffic engineer to figure out why. All one has to do is observe the way traffic is handled and the way traffic laws are enforced — with the exception of the parking meters — and it becomes very easy to see why Appleton could never win an award of this type.

Some day we will have a mayor that will admit that we have a traffic problem and decide to sit down and do something about it instead of just ridiculing those that offer suggestions. Some day we will have a public safety committee that will start drawing up traffic and parking regulations for a growing city instead of just sitting on their hands and wishing the problem didn't exist.

I just hope that day isn't far away.

Opposed to Late Hours For Taverns

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am not in favor of the city council's vote to change the taverns proposed closing hours to 2:00 a.m. during daylight saving time. I think the people should vote on such an important change. Naturally the tavern owners would be unanimously in favor of such a change.

I do not have any quarrel with business men or women who are conducting taverns.

I think the persons who are to benefit from such a change are negligible. Both patrons and proprietors should be happy to get some well earned rest at that hour of the morning.

Now is the time for all concerned to speak or write to the Post-Crescent or their alderman or city council members so all will be satisfied with the outcome of this very important proposed change.

Let's do it now!

Code of Ethics for State Officials Is Good Idea

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — While political rivals may perhaps have a right to be skeptical about its timing, there will be support among thoughtful students of public affairs for Gov. Nelson's suggestion for a code of ethics for state officials and employees.

As the governor hastily noted when he announced his wish, there is no serious doubt today about the standard of conduct among state civil servants, and appointive officers, in general.

Nor should anything that follows be construed as showing any doubt about the matter in this corner. It has repeatedly been asserted here that the Wisconsin state service, on the whole, is impeccably honest. Some may find it somewhat stuffy, set in its ways, slow to accept innovations, ponderous in performance. But these are characteristics, perhaps liabilities, of bureaucracy. If there is any conscious departure from ethical action in the Wisconsin service the most attentive and critical on-lookers over the years have been bamboozled.

BUT YET

Yet that should not be a real argument against the formulation of the kind of explicit code that the governor envisions.

There are quiet towns in Wisconsin in which there hasn't been a burglary, or a case of arson, or an assault on the record for years.

Yet the town fathers don't repeal the ordinances, for all of that.

Wisconsin has for years made an issue out of legislative conduct, and the issue of legislative morality in relations with the lobbyists for the special interests. Two years ago the legislature was Dayton, O., will not come as a surprise to these groups.

But the results are shocking and should stir some hard thinking by citizens generally. Here is what Dayton researchers found:

Only four persons in every 10 could name a single leader in civic activities. Only 33 per cent of the residents took an active part in community affairs, even defining "activity" very modestly. And only 2 per cent considered interest and participation in community affairs something of which to be particularly proud.

Nearly every person questioned guessed that 23 to 38 per cent of his property tax dollar was spent on schools. Actually the percentage was from 60 to 80.

And this isn't just about Dayton, Ohio. It goes for almost every other place.

Looking Backward

Paper Attacks Grand Jury System

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Feb. 25, 1860.

The Grand Jury system is evidently becoming very unpopular in Wisconsin and deservedly so. It is a one-sided inquisition in nine cases out of ten, and is an engine of oppression.

In this County it is a notorious fact that in every important case brought before the Grand Jury, the position of every juror and even the very debates which take place are known to the public very soon after they transpire. The oath of secrecy, we are sorry to say, is treated as obsolete. All the good of the system has long ago been overshadowed by the evil.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Feb. 21, 1935

Without debate, the state senate voted to conduct its own probe of charges that communistic activities were permitted at the University of Wisconsin and other state educational institutions.

Appleton's allotment of relief funds from the state for February were to be $17,096, T. C. McConnell, director of relief, was informed in a message from A. W. Briggs, state director.

A. R. Sanna, manager of the Milk Pool Products Cooperative of Madison, marketing organization of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool, was to be the principal speaker at the state meeting of cooperative and milk pool members and officials.

Walter Dixon, E. A. Killorin, F. N. Belanger, Herb Heilig, George Nixon and Waldo Friedland of Menasha were to represent Appleton and Menasha at the annual meeting of the Nicolet council of Boy Scouts at Joannes hall in Green Bay. Mr. Nixon was to lead discussion on Court of Honor, while Mr. Heilig was to lead discussion on Camping.

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Feb. 23, 1950

The house passed a fair employment practices (FEPC) bill stripped of enforcement provisions. The vote was 241 to 176. The bill, far short of what President Truman wanted, was to go to the senate. The house action came after a debate that started at noon yesterday and ran into early that morning.

Democratic senate leaders wound up with even more authority than they had asked to investigate charges by Sen. McCarthy that a com-

City's Milk Tested for Antibiotics

Appleton's health department laboratory is testing the city's milk for traces of milk adulteration—presence of antibiotics and weed killers, the board of health was told Wednesday.

If tests indicate presence of these inhibitors, the farmer's product is rejected from the Appleton milk supply. Physicians have found cases of hives produced by patients' sensitivity to penicillin and small traces of penicillin in milk can produce hives, Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, Appleton health commissioner, said. Penicillin in milk also can sensitize an individual and cause a severe reaction when penicillin is given for an illness, the commissioner added. Milk from treated mastitic quarters is responsible for much of the adulteration and dairymen must follow strictly the rule of now not allowing milk from antibiotic treated quarters for 72 hours (six milkings) to go to market. The UW agricultural department service says that several Wisconsin farmers have been fined for adulteration of milk with antibiotics.

Reduction in Insurance Rates

Madison — The Wisconsin Insurance commission has announced a $1,750,000 annual reduction in insurance rates paid by companies covered by the state's Workmen's compensation law. Commissioner Charles Manson said Tuesday the rates will be trimmed starting March 1. The revision represents an overall 5.8 per cent reduction for the 63,500 companies who have more than one million employees. Rates are revised on the basis of the number and size of claims in a 3-year period.

Lawrence Says
Need Action
On Federal Interest Rates

House Committee
Has Taken Step Toward Increase

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — The house ways and means committee has made a start toward remedying the ill effects that have come from political tinkering with the nation's interest rates.
Spurred by Rep. Wilbur
Mills, Arkansas Democrat, and the sympathetic attitude of speaker Sam Rayburn, the house committee has approved a bill giving the treasury flexibility in fixing the interest rates on long-term government bonds. This doesn't go all the way toward removing the impediments to the natural operation of the law of supply and demand, but it is a step toward rebuilding confidence in the financial structure of the government.
The controversy, simply stated, is over the power of the treasury to refinance the national debt with interest rates that lenders are willing to accept. One would think authority as simple as this would be immediately granted. Unfortunately, politicians who think the electorate is unable to understand the issue are crying that the government wants "to boost interest rates." They claim the treasury seeks to favor the bankers. This demagoguery of a political variety is easily recognized in an election year.
Lenders Protest
Actually, the issue has backfired. The refusal to remove the ceiling on interest rates fixed by an old law is forcing interest rates up and making it difficult for borrowers to get mortgage money except at unusually high rates.
Protests have been voiced by issuers of mortgages, real estate groups and building and loan associations. They say when the treasury has had to pay higher and higher interest rates on notes of five years or less, there is a temptation for lenders to pull their money out of savings institutions and invest in the higher-interest-paying government securities.
The Democrats who have been raising a false issue about high interest rates have unwittingly helped to boost the rates in the open market.
The price at which money will flow from lender to borrower is not something that can be regulated by the government. Each person will determine what is best for himself. Nobody can be compelled to lend money at unattractive interest rates. If notes or bonds do not pay a high enough interest, the individual will put his money into stocks or tax-exempt securities.
A chaotic condition has developed. Being unable to pay even a fraction of a point higher than four - and-one-quarter per cent on long-term bonds, the treasury has had to keep on refinancing its debt with notes running less than five years. There is no ceiling on what the treasury may lawfully pay in interest on these securities.
Shortage of Funds
With $80 billion or more of notes coming due each year, the treasury has had to pay higher and higher interest on short-term notes. This has attracted investors who would otherwise make their funds available to savings banks or to similar institutions. The result is a shortage, the law of supply and demand forces the interest rate upwards and produces a lopsided set-up in what normally is a well-balanced flow of money in both the long-term and the short-term field of securities.
The house ways and means committee has agreed to let the treasury go above the four - and-a-quarter per cent ceiling on interest rates for limited amounts—that is, to issues of approximately $5.8 billion in each fiscal year.
This is hardly enough.
This proposal will run into a roadblock in the senate, where the politicians are preparing a fight against the house bill.
All over the world financial and economic opinion has been one of dismay at the extent to which partisan politics is allowed to interfere with the efforts of the United States government to maintain confidence in the dollar.
Interest rates are bound to rise to a certain extent, just as do wage rates. The savings accumulated by a man's labor are entitled to equitable consideration. If he lends money today that isn't going to be returned to him in dollars of the same purchasing

'I Love Name of Washington'

BY HARRY GOLDEN

George Washington meant a great deal to immigrant boys on the lower East Side.

He not only founded this great new country, but, perhaps more importantly, he was a symbol of its probity. Washington was as good and as brave as you could expect to be when you became an American. We used to recite a poem about him:

I love the name of Washington
I love my country, too
I love the flag, the dear old flag
The red, the white and blue.

Later on we found out he was an austere man. Of all the men who followed him, Washington allowed only Gen. Knox, the artilleryman, to treat him familiarly. Even Hamilton, the principle architect of the Constitution, had to watch his step with Washington. Once, on a dare, he walked up and slapped Washington on the back. The general stared stonily at him, then stepped back as though Hamilton had never performed this indignity.

Inspired Loyalty
Yet we East Side immigrant boys were essentially right in our appraisal of Washington because he inspired an intense loyalty and devotion. It is hard to imagine that the enemies Washington had wouldn't be gentlemanly and as honorable as he. Yet they weren't. In fact, the Tories once tried to murder him.

This scantily explored incident took place when Washington was at Richmond Hill, Gov. Tryon of New York conceived the plot and enlisted the aid of at least 12 conspirators.

They learned that Wash-

Mother Saves Tat From Refrigerator

Houston, Texas — Mrs. Jean Allgayer found son Ronnie, 4, nude and "nearly blue with cold" after two hours in an electric icebox Sunday.

Ronnie told her he and a girl playmate, likewise 4, used the refrigerator for a tub while they played "taking a bath." He slucked his clothes and crawled inside. The little girl slammed the door.

Mrs. Allgayer awoke from a nap and started hunting Ronnie in the 19-unit apartment house where they live. Finally she heard a muffled voice from an untenanted apartment:

"Mommie! Mommie! I'm here—get me out!"

At City-County hospital, doctors ordered a hot bath for Ronnie. They said his temperature was back to normal after the real bath and he appeared to suffer no ill effects.

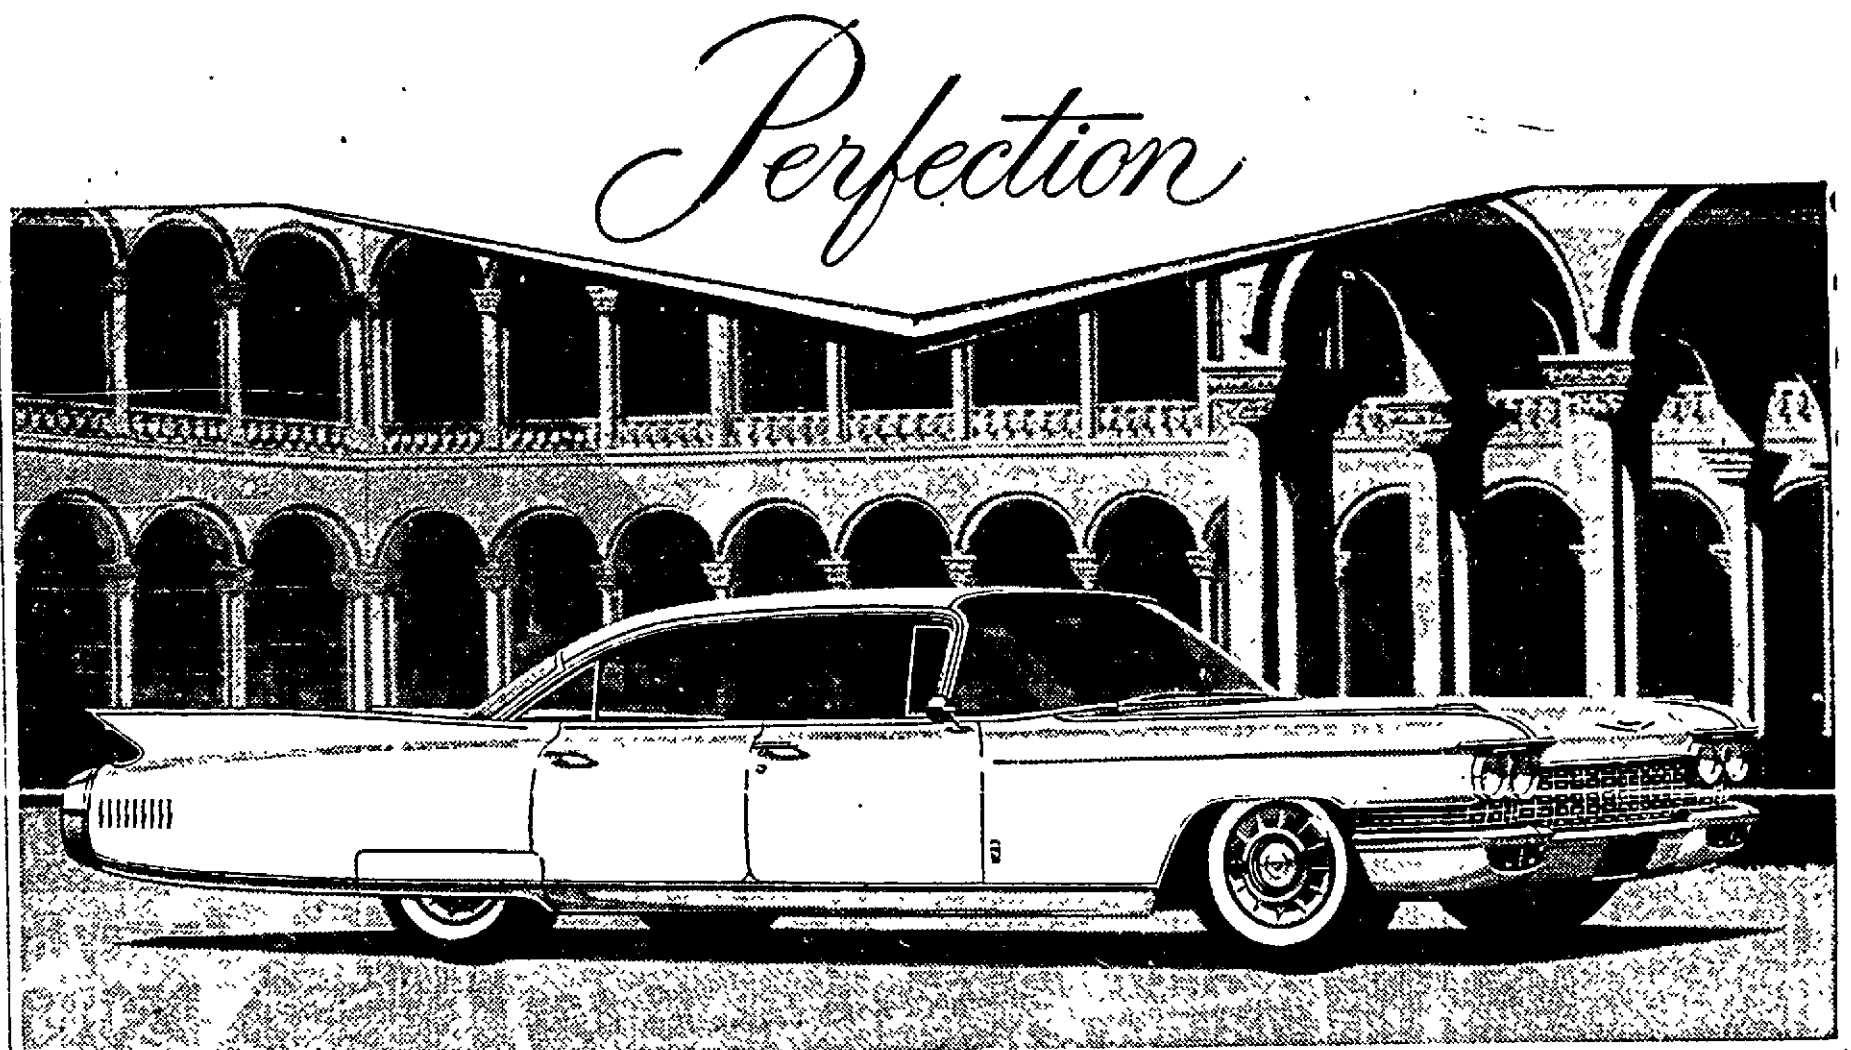

ington favored Fraunces Tavern in the city and began an intrigue to poison him one night when he dined there.

A soldier named Hickey began a courtship with Miss Fraunces, daughter of the innkeeper. She was flattered by his attention and imagined herself in love, until Hickey asked her to put some poison in Washington's peas the next time he ate there.

Miss Fraunces was a patriot and she immediately informed the general's aide. The officer told her to lead Hickey on and to find out the names of all the conspirators. When she had found out all Hickey knew, she accepted the poison, mixed it with the peas under his direction, but saved the evidence for the army authorities. Twenty people were arrested for complicity in this attempted assassination including Matthews, the mayor of New York (who stoutly denied any knowledge of the deed). Only Hickey was hanged. He was executed on the estate of Col. Rutgers just east of the Boverly while 20,000 people watched.

When Washington became president, he selected Samuel Fraunces as his steward (the capital of the United States was first located in New York City). Mr. Fraunces spent eight years making a daily morning journey to the Fly Market in Maiden Lane to provision the president's table.

Drop Theater Remodeling In Menasha

Conversion Costs Run Too High for Store, Apartments

Menasha — Plans for converting the long-unused Valley theater building into an apartment and store building have been dropped, said William Christensen, Appleton, vice president of Christensen Land company.

Costs of remodeling the old building ran too high, making the project an unattractive investment, Christensen added. The firm had intended to convert the old theater building into 16 "efficiency" apartments and a street level store, with mezzanine.

The Valley theater, built about 1914, has been closed since 1954 when Marcus Theaters, Inc., acquired it from Fox Theaters, Inc. It was closed many years before Fox took it over and remodeled it in 1941. The theater operated off and on between 1941 and 1954, then fell victim to the nationwide decline in motion picture attendance.

The building, 40 by 160 feet, has deteriorated with disuse and would require extensive remodeling.

The tour will begin at 1 p.m. at the Tom Atkins farm on county trunk S, immediately east of Highway 45, in the town of Clayton.

The second stop will be at the Ralph and Roy Luedtke farm in the town of Wolf River.

Monday's tour has been arranged through the county extension office.

Legislative Action Group Would Expand

Goal of 30 Members Sought for State
Study Committee

Neenah — Expansion of the state legislative action committee membership to 25 to 30 members is being planned by the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce. The committee was formed last month and held its second organization session this week.

Letters of invitation to participate are being sent to industry, service clubs, the League of Women Voters and other organizations. Present members also are making contacts for additional members.

Next meeting of the committee tentatively has been set between March 15 to 22 at the Hotel Menasha, depending on which days State Sen. William A. Draheim and Assemblyman Arnold J. Cane can attend.

Purposes

The state legislative action committee has set four purposes for its activities:

1. To study and evaluate state legislation, pending and recommended.
2. To encourage members of this committee to take a positive position as a result of this study and evaluation.
3. To encourage committee members to make the proper legislators aware of their thoughts.
4. To communicate results of study and evaluation to the Chamber of Commerce membership.

D. C. Shepard, Jr., is committee chairman and Armin Schroeder is the co-chairman.

Government Locks Record 4,696 Boats

Pass Through in 2,692 Lockages During '59
Season, April 29 to Nov. 18; July Best

Menasha — The Menasha government locks passed 4,696 boats of all kinds last year in 2,692 locking operations, the year's report kept by Lockmaster Harry R. Wilson shows.

The boating season, as far as the federal locks are concerned, ran from April 29 to Nov. 18. The season ended early and abruptly when November's bitter cold weather froze the Fox river.

The locks' best month was July, when 1,335 craft passed through in 774 lockages.

Wilson said the largest number of boats between the locks at one time was 19 on a July Sunday. The 19 boats belonged to members of the Milwaukee boating club.

Since the lock basin's water level is controlled by hand-operated mechanisms, the three locktenders get "quite a workout" some summer days, especially weekends, said Wilson.

By months, the lockages and numbers of boats were: April, 5 and 5; May, 279 and 561; June, 551 and 866; July, 774 and 1,335; August, 654 and 1,158; September, 339 and 629; October, 75 and 127; and November, 15 and 15.

Wilson and his crew also have primary duties of maintaining the level of Lake Winnebago, through regulating the sluice gates at the Menasha and Neenah dams. The level must be regulated closely, Wilson pointed out, for flood prevention and for enough water for safe navigation of the largest craft using the Fox waterway.

New City Directory To Be Issued Soon

Neenah — The new Neenah-Menasha city directory will be distributed in two to three weeks, John Konrad, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said he had been informed by the Johnson Publishing company of Manitowoc, printers of the directory. Copies of the new directory may be purchased at the chamber office.

Assets Increase

Menasha — Assets of the Central Paper company employees' credit union increased to nearly $30,000 in 1959, compared to about $20,000 at the end of 1958, the group's annual report says.

Menasha School Survey

Advise Board, Administration To Distinguish Each One's Duties

Menasha — Moderate reorganization of the administrative setup of Menasha public schools is recommended in a section of the Northwestern university curriculum audit.

The major points stressed are:

1. Executive and policy-making functions should be clearly outlined by the board of education so its committees do not fall into the habit of assuming executive functions normally handled by the superintendent. In many places, this occurs, surveyors noted.
2. Administrators should be urged to attend as many supervisory and curriculum development seminars as possible, and their costs should be considered investments, rather than expenses. Preparation of local administrators compares to those in similar communities in the country, the team found.

Change Principal Setup

3. Elementary school principals should be in their posts full time. Two principals each would devote one-half day to a school, and the other half day at each school would be filled by a head teacher who acts as principal in the latter's absence. Presently, Butte des Morts and Clovis-Grove schools have principals who are half-time teachers. The principals at Nicolet and Jefferson teach full time and administer their schools in spare time.

4. More adequate personnel records should be kept — on faculty, office and custodial staff members.

5. Some duties not involving top-level decisions should be handled by someone other than the superintendent.

6. The new junior high, in the remodeled Butte des Morts building, should be treated as a distinct administrative unit. It should not be a "tail on the senior high school kite."

Combine Departments

7. Some high school departments should be expanded so there are fewer department heads having greater responsibilities.

Credit Union at Bergstrom Firm Renames Officers

Neenah — Directors of the Bergstrom Paper Credit Union at a recent board meeting reelected officers. They are Wayne Long as president, Lawrence Zielinski as vice president, David F. Petersen as secretary and Lorch H. Jenks as treasurer.

The credit union at its Feb. 13 meeting reelected as directors Petersen and Maurice Larson and as a credit committee member John Hammett. They will serve 3-year terms.

Last year ended with $501 members and assets of $367,107. Personal loans made last year totaled $193,714 and real estate loans came to $21,996. Dividends of $10,451 were paid for the year at a 4 per cent rate.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Harold S. Jones, Neenah, and Mrs. Lyle Kallenbach, Childersburg, Ala.; one sister, Mrs. Albert Auxier, Melcher, Iowa; seven grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Publicist Warns of Negativism Danger

Neenah — "It is time we throw off this cloak of negativism and put on a cloak of positiveness," K. W. Haagen-sen, Milwaukee, told Men's club of First Presbyterian church Tuesday.

Warning of the dangers of a negative philosophy, the director of public relations for Allis - Chalmers Manufacturing company, advised "if you can't speak constructively, then the most important contribution you can make is to keep your mouth shut."

Americans have the reputation of being among the best salesmen in the world for products, but we also have the reputation of being lousy salesmen of ideas, Haagen-sen said at the supper meeting. "We have a negativism and

Winnebago Unit Hears Reports

Neenah — Reports on the Sunday mid-winter conference held in Milwaukee were given at Winnebago group, Eight and Forty's Tuesday meeting at Mrs. F. A. Robinson's home, 807 Jean street.

Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Pauline Jape, Mrs. Alicia Bart, Mrs. George Lansing and Mrs. Emil Kollath gave the reports. The state organization gave $1,086 of donations, clothing, gifts and toys to their welfare project, assisting children with tuberculosis.

The Winnebago unit is making crib quilts and scrapbooks for use in the nursery at the National Jewish hospital, Denver, Colo.

Mrs. William Killeen, Oshkosh, will be hostess for the March 22 meeting.

Quoting the old adage, "good news travels fast," Haagen-sen said, "I wish it were true, but sometimes good news doesn't even get off the ground. It's the bad news that travels fast."

Nine out of ten problems are due to a breakdown in communications, the speaker said. If you couple facts and truth with communication, you reach your goal of understanding.

Stressing the importance of selling in relation to people as well as products, Haagen-sen said "I believe no one can succeed unless he can sell. Everything we do has to be sold."

LeRoy Goldbeck, Harley Loker and Richard Machamer were elected to the Men's club council.

Neenah High Plays on Theme Of Brotherhood

Chosen to Coincide With Observance by School Students

Neenah — Two plays by the Neenah High school Thespians troupe at 7:45 tonight and Friday night will highlight the Brotherhood week observance at Neenah High school, according to William Dunwiddie, chairman of the observance in the high school.

Art students have used school bulletin boards for exhibits on the Brotherhood week theme and Helen Tolversen, editor of "The Cub," school newspaper has made the observance her editorial for this week's issue.

Dunwiddie pointed out that the idea of brotherhood is stressed throughout the entire school year and not just for one week. It does receive increased emphasis during this one week, he added.

The modern problems course for seniors has a unit on curbing discrimination and prejudice and the theme also is contained in social studies courses for other class levels.

The Thespians troupe chose plays which related to the brotherhood idea for presentation and one of the plays, Thornton Wilder's "The Unerring Instinct," was secured from the National Conference of Christians and Jews which sponsors the national observance of Brotherhood week.

In this play one of the cast members has always been full of fears about people and about those she wants to meet and those she doesn't want to meet. Her sister-in-law decides to plant a new prejudice in her mind about the name Smith, just to show her how susceptible she is to nonsense.

She falls for the truck and though she protests her open-mindedness, shows her narrowness of mind and makes a fool of herself before a very nice man and a respected citizen of the town.

The other play, "The Starving Match" by Jerry McNeely, concerns a community suffering from drought. After much persuasion by his wife, Linus Hobbs goes to church with his wife and daughter.

While the townspeople are praying for rain, two men come to them.

One is dressed completely in black, the other in white. Each knows the people and their problems. It is decided only one of them can be a helper from the Lord. The townspeople lean toward the one in white but Linus suggests a match between the two. Since both say they cannot use physical violence, a staring match begins.

NHS Seniors Get Mail From 'Foster Children' of Class

Neenah — Two letters from the foster children sponsored by the senior class of Neenah High school as a service project were received Wednesday and read to the student body.

Choi Soon Nam, a 10-year-old Korean orphan, wrote she is in second grade where she studies the Korean language, mathematics, social life, music and drawing. The other students in her school and orphanage envy her because she has so many foster parents, each member of the Neenah High senior class.

George Stamatiadis, a young Greek boy aided through the Foster Parents plan by the class, sent his thanks for the money received which was used to buy shoes for him and food for his mother and sister. He wrote he had a pleasant Christmas and told of the cold weather and rain where he lives.

Jerome Lee Fined for Disorderly Conduct

Menasha — Jerome J. Lee, 20, 315 First street, Neenah, was fined $15 and costs Wednesday by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales on his guilty plea to disorderly conduct.

He was charged after a scuffle in an alley behind the water and light commission office the night of Feb. 5. He was hospitalized for injuries suffered in the scuffle.

Dislocates Knee

Neenah — Clarence Strobel, 121 King street, was taken in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark hospital at 8:50 p.m. Wednesday after he dislocated his knee while at work at Gilbert Paper company.

A Brotherhood Week Play, given by third graders of Butte des Morts school, Menasha, illustrated a central idea behind the movement, which aims to cut down prejudice against all persons. Calvin Watter, playing "Uncle Sam," turned his back on "tattle-tale" (Robert Knorr), "stuck-up" (Richard Fleischer) and "name calling" (Teddy Zolkowski), as a symbol of his dislike for such habits.

Technology Changes Work Habits of Modern Woodman

Neenah — The working and living habits of the modern counterpart of yesterday's lumberjack have been changed now that mechanization and technology have entered the woods, according to Kimberly-Clark corporation's employee magazine.

This mechanization also may make the legendary logging methods of Paul Bunyan less fantastic, and one example, the article reports, is the trial use of hydraulic shears to fell trees in the forests.

But giant shears for logging should not amaze anyone in today's technological world, the article continues. Mechanization has changed woodlands operations and turned the old-style lumberjack into a skilled operator.

Disappearing, too, are the days when a man could take an ax and saw into the woods and make a living when other jobs were unavailable.

Acquire New Skills

Kimberly-Clark woodlands department explains many of the reasons for these changes. Overall, the job of supplying mills with wood has changed from one of harvesting timber to one of growing as well as harvesting according to a planned forest management program.

Woods workers have had to acquire new skills with the entry of highly mechanized equipment in cutting and moving trees out of the woods to the mills. This mechanization also has made woods operations more and more independent of weather and the seasons.

This independence, coupled with the program of growing as well as harvesting, greater familiarity with selective cutting and forest management practices, has made woods work a full time job instead of seasonal.

Year-Round Vocation

Another major change that has made woods work a year-round vocation is the expanded use of wood so there no longer is dependency on spruce and pine alone. For example, Kimberly-Clark has, through experiments and research, replaced 75,000 cords of spruce brought in from distant points with 80,000 cords of poplar grown in the Lake states within trucking distance of the mills.

All weather roads now make it possible for workers to live at home and commute to work in the woods. Because he can establish a home, the woods workers now can become an active member of a community.

The magazine points out that these changes are only "the beginning... with the next decade bringing further improvements in mechanizing the woods worker's job and in greater use of local wood."

Policemen of The Fox Cities

(This is another in a series of stories on Fox Cities area policemen.)

Robert F. Towns, 29, route 1, Neenah, is the newest member of the Neenah police force.

He joined the department Nov. 15, 1959 and is a patrolman. Towns is married and has four children. A 1948 graduate of Neenah High school, he served four years in military service, including 18 months in Fairbanks, Alaska.

He was a radio operator. Amateur radio is his hobby and he is a member of the Neenah-Menasha Amateur Radio club. Another hobby is model airplane flying. Previous employment includes five years at Marathon division of American Can company.

He has a brother, John, in the police department.

Neenah Club to Hear State Securities Head

Neenah — Edward Samp of the state securities department at Madison will speak to the Neenah club Monday at its noon dinner.

Child, 3, Scalded

Menasha — Three-year-old Kendall Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene D. Rasmussen, 709 London street, was scalded Tuesday morning when he fell into a tub of hot water at home. He is listed in satisfactory condition in Theda Clark Memorial hospital.

Jays End M-E Slate Against Ghosts; NHS Faces Bulldogs

Both Local Schools Already Have Bettered 1959 Records

Menasha — Neenah and Menasha, both of which have improved considerably on last year's league records, conclude Mid-Eastern conference competition Friday evening.

Menasha, whose game still has title connotations attached to it, is host to second place Kaukauna. Neenah winds up a successful campaign at eighth place New London.

The Bluejays, under the guidance of Coach Lucian Gajewski, have a 7-6 conference record, three wins better than last year's production. With just a break or two along the way they might have been several rungs higher in the standings.

4-Point Setbacks
Within the last month they've bowed to Neenah, Kimberly and Kaukauna by just four points each. They lost the Kimberly game with three seconds left, the Neenah game in the fourth period and against Shawano they had a tie with two minutes left.

The Ghosts need a win over Menasha and a loss by Kimberly to Shawano if they are to share in the conference crown. They currently have a 10-3 league slate and an overall 14-3. Menasha's overall log is 8-8.

Seniors End Play
The contest will mark the close of conference play for five Menasha seniors. They are regulars Jay Drzewiecki and Jim Stenson, Russ Wendt, a letterman who has suited up but hasn't played at all because of a football injury, and reserves Al Blohm and Dexter Below.

Also bowing out will be several Kaukauna boys who have been regulars since they were sophomores, including scoring nee. They lead the circuit champ LeRoy Weyenberg, with a 7-1 record.

Becker Jolts 657 Set In Business League

Slams 251; Fabian Pelky Scores Sweep
In Uptown League; Buksyk Tops 'Industrial'

Menasha — Harold Becker uncorked a 251 game and 657 threesome in the Business Men's Bowling league Wednesday night at the Mid-Town alleys.

Bob Patterson clouted a 250 game while other big totals included Jerry Christensen 242-617, Guy Wideman 242-606, Clancy Braun 241-601 and Ken Radichel 225-585.

Gear Dairy leads by six games with its 49-23 first place record.

Fabian Pelky rattled a 243 game and 609 series in the Wednesday night Uptown Commercial circuit at Mid-Town.

Al LaCount bowled 594, Merlin Cosgrove 571, Charles Tel-1,080 game and Washington in 551, Art Brazee 550 and Ted Birling 225.

Bill Borchardt and Myron Zachowski.

Neenah, which had a 7-7 record a year ago, now owns an 8-5 league slate and an overall 12-5 mark. Neenah currently holds fourth place but could tie for third through the combination of a win and a Shawano loss to Kimberly.

Highest Losing Total
The Rockets turned in one of their finest efforts the last time out, even though losing to Kimberly 94-89. It was probably their highest losing total in history.

Their winning string snapped at six, the Rockets hope to start a new one to take into the regional tourney.

Closing out their conference careers will be Jack Ankersen, the league's second ranking scorer, Tom Smith, Dick Wilson and Don Althaus.

NHS Beats Bulldogs
Neenah beat the Bulldogs 75-67 in the first meeting, paced by Jack Ankersen's 25 points. Kaukauna won over Menasha 75-62 after breaking into a 19-6 first period lead. Jim Stenson had 23 points for the Jays and Bill Borchardt

Grand Chute School Districts Face Inevitable Dissolution

State Law Requires Attachment, Probably to Appleton, by 1962

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Dissolution of independent elementary school districts in the town of Grand Chute and incorporation into the Appleton schools system appears inevitable.

The area is involved under the state law requiring all elementary school districts to be attached to high school districts by July 1, 1962.

A meeting this morning at city hall resulted from a petition from the Badger school district (southwest end of the town of Grand Chute) for attachment to Appleton. Present were Mayor Mitchell, Supt. of Schools Mann, School Board Members Nehs, County Supt. of Schools Van Straten, County School Committee Member Douglas, City Atty. Jury and Aldermen Tews and Mrs. Stillings.

Primary aim of the talk was to aid Appleton in preparing for school attachment and possible annexation for all services in some areas.

Other Counties Although only the town of Grand Chute was considered in detail, the city faces additional attachment problems in Calumet county's town of Harrison and Winnebago county's town of Harrison and Winnebago county's town of Menasha south of Appleton.

In Grand Chute, schools involved are Badger, with 133 students in an area with a valuation (equalized) of $5,980,500; Twin Willow, 91 students, $2,225,000 valuation; Woodlawn, 123 students, $6,053,400 valuation; Triangle, 29 students, $2,220,300 valuation; and Elmdale, 16 students, $1,963,500 valuation. Badger is at Spencer road and Bluemound drive, Twin Willow at County Trunk A about half a mile north of Highway 41, Woodlawn at Highway 47 about a mile north of 41, Triangle at Highway 76 and 10 and Elmdale on French road between Highways 41 and 96.

Council Session The Appleton council will the public hearing. Since under state law, the area must be attached by 1962, there is little question of the eventual attachment to Appleton. It becomes a question of when and what type of annexation the city may demand—for all services or merely for schools.

Pension Possible For Vets, Widows Under New Law

Veterans, or widows or orphans of veterans, whose previous pension claims have been disallowed because of the excessive income may be eligible under a new law, Francis Heesakker, county service officer said.

The present law requires that a veteran, if otherwise eligible, may receive a pension only if his income does not exceed $1,400, if he has no dependents or $2,700 if he is married or has a minor child.

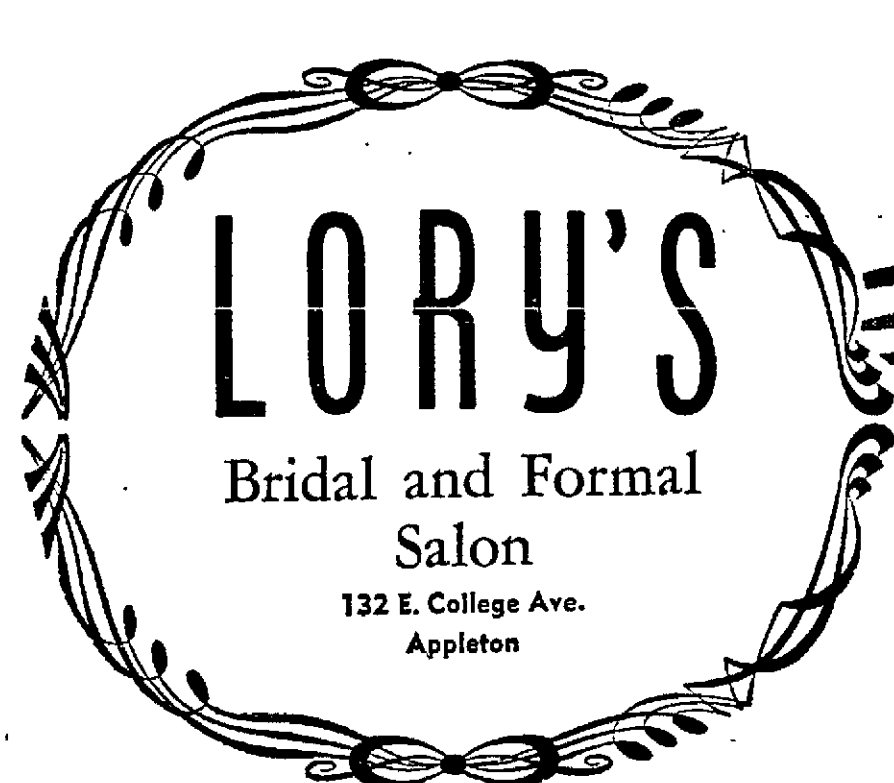

The new pension act, which becomes effective July 1, 1960, increases this maximum to $1,800 if no dependents and $3,000 with dependents and establishes a sliding or graduated scale for various income levels below these limits.

Similarly higher income limitations will be provided by the new law in the case of widows who may earn up to $1,800 if childless or up to $3,000 if they have dependent children. If there are children but no widow, the child's income can reach $1,800 annually, not including his own earnings, and he will still be eligible for pension.

Mardi Gras Food From Southland

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Only a few days left for pre-lenten culinary flings . . . so we borrowed several ideas from Mardi Gras land where carnival festivities reach their peak on the night of Shrove Tuesday.

Mardi Gras literally means "fat Tuesday" and signifies the last day of merrymaking before the six weeks of lent begin next Wednesday. In many countries special foods are associated with Shrove Tuesday . . . fastnachts, a type of rich doughnut, are served in some places . . . in other localities the pancake is the traditional food for the day.

In New Orleans . . . where Mardi Gras parties and parades are world-famous . . . rich, fancy layer cakes are customary fare . . . the Louisiana hostess spares neither pains nor time to prepare the most beautiful and delicious cake possible for her guests.

So it's in the spirit of gay Mardi Gras that these recipes are offered . . . Almond Banana Cake or a Butterscotch Layer Cake . . . Southern Black Bottom Pie . . . delectable Crabmeat Jambalaya . . . and adapted from the bayou country in the form of appetizers . . . Plantation Cheese Rounds.

With the use of packaged white cake mix and a new filling now on the market, Almond Banana Cake becomes a quick recipe. The cake turns out beautifully to belie the short-cut method used to prepare it.

Almond Banana Party Cake

- 1 pkg. white cake mix
- 2 bananas
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 12 ounce can almond filling
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Prepare cake mix according to directions; bake in two 8-inch layers. Cool. Split layers horizontally, making four thin layers. Slice bananas and coat with lemon juice. Beginning with bottom layer, spread first, second and third layers, each with one-third of almond filling. Arrange one-third of banana slices on each filling. Stack layers back into cake form as each is spread with filling. Spread whipped cream on sides and top layer in swirls. Serve immediately.

- 1 cup flour
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 2 ounces unsweetened chocolate

- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
  - 2 teaspoons rum extract
  - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Roll graham crackers into fine crumbs to make about one and two-thirds cups. Blend together cracker crumbs, butter, one-fourth cup sugar and cinnamon. Press firmly against bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Bake in 375-degree oven for eight minutes. Cool.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Pattern for Wall Background

Walls needn't be perfectly plain to be good background for the room. They can be patterned, and still step back modestly to let other room elements stand out. The stores show especially handsome wallpapers right now to prove their point better than ever before. The papers are patterned just enough to make the walls interesting, but not so much that they over-emphasize the walls and make it difficult to use other patterns in the room.

As those who banished pattern from the walls completely with a change of contemporary style sometimes found out, too much plainness can make an uninteresting room. The textured papers which succeeded flat, plain color were an improvement, and they're still good where the walls need subtle, all-over decoration. But never are tiny figures which have the simple, all-over effect of background, but which introduce more than one color and a spark of extra style.

Gifts From Boss Chosen By His Wife

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have received several very nice presents from my boss during this past busy year. I've stretched a point to cooperate when there was extra work to be done and I think that is why the gifts were given me. I have thanked him verbally each time and let it go at that. However, I know that his wife is responsible for picking out the gifts. I know her only on the telephone and nothing has been said about her when the gifts were handed to me. Should I thank her too when talking to her, or what could I do to acknowledge her part?

Answer: Unless your employer has told you that the gifts are from his wife as well as from himself, it would be actually lacking in good taste to mention these gifts to her, unless she happens to ask you if you liked this or that gift which she helped choose.

Birthday Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I will soon be celebrating my 17th birthday. I had planned on giving a party and inviting my many friends to help me celebrate. I have been told that it would be in bad taste to give my own birthday party. Will you please advise me if this is true.

Answer: The best thing for you to do is to invite your friends to a party, and only tell them after they arrive that you wanted to have them with you on your birthday. In this way none of them will feel embarrassed because they have brought no presents.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-29, entitled "Buffet Dinners, Lunches, and Suppers," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 89, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Your Problems

Forgotten Birthday Sets Off Series of Family Fireworks

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 13 and must get help with a family problem. It all happened yesterday on Mom's 34th birthday. I forgot it was her birthday and so did my younger sister and brother. Daddy didn't remember it either.

It all started when Mom got a card in the mail from my aunt. That set off the fireworks. We tried to wish her a happy birthday after we realized it was the day, but she got mad and yelled "I'm just a housekeeper and cook around here. Nobody gives a darn about me." We tried to hug her and she threw us off her lap. Now we are all very sad because she goes around with a long face and won't talk to us. What can we do?—Bad Kids

Dear Kids: Be friendly and helpful in the house and Mom will sweeten up. Mother's day is in May — so save your pennies to buy her a nice gift or card to let her know you remembered.
Also, get a 1961 calendar so you won't let it slip by next year. Remind your Dad — a few days in advance so he can take Mom out to dinner on her 35th. And for heaven's sake, don't forget his birthday.

DEAR ANN: Is social drinking a must these days? In the town where we live it seems that every small dinner party, whether in a home or a restaurant, must start with a cocktail or two. They never ask if you'd care for one. It's always "What will yours be?"

I'm a man in my 40's who is planning to marry a lovely widow with children. She likes a cocktail before dinner. I do too. She told me nicely that it's rude to be the only one in the crowd not drinking. In my opinion it's foolish to order a drink and let it sit.

I've been told by others that a lone abstainer in a crowd sticks out like a sore thumb. What is your opinion?—Me, Myself and I

Dear Me: I say what this world needs is more sore thumbs. It's senseless to follow the crowd if you don't particularly care to go in that direction. No is a perfectly respectable Anglo-Saxon word, used in the best of circles. I heartily recommend that you use it for just such occasions.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son goes with a girl 15. He's 16 and very adult for his age. The problem is the girl's parents. They insist that she be home by midnight. (She has permission to date weekends only.) However, they think it's perfectly all right for a young man to stay and visit as long as he likes. The only thing that matters is that their daughter is at home on time.

Our son has been rolling in at 3:30 and 4 a.m. We don't think this is right. What can we do about it? We can't tell the girl's parents to kick our son out.—Troubled Parents

Dear Troubled Parents: It's not good for a young man to park himself at a young lady's home until dawn. The girls parents should impose some sort of curfew on her visitors. Since they are not so inclined, it's up to you to give your son orders. Tell him he must be home by 1 a.m. This is ample time for fond farewells.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Take Advantage Of Tax Deductions

BY SYLVIA PORTER
You know that in counting up your 1959 medical expenses to see if you have a deduction on the income tax you should include all your doctor and hospital bills. Presumably, you also will include any cab fares or other traveling expenses involved in getting to and from your doctor's office. But what if your doctor lives far from you? Can you deduct the expense of travel to and from his office — even if you carry it to the point of a transcontinental medical trip? The answer is "yes." A Los Angeles taxpayer took an annual trip to New York to the doctor of his choice for a medical check-up. Under the general rule, his travel expenses were deductible. But the problem in such instances is that the treasury tries to make the cost non-deductible — for example, by claiming that you've made the trip for vacation rather than medical reasons. No Vacation In the case of the Los Angeles-New York trip, the court found that the taxpayer took his trip not to get a vacation but to get the medical checkup, as he had stated. The court's reasoning was that if a taxpayer wants to use a doctor who lives 3,000 miles away from home, that's his affair. When the courts and the treasury disagree and the court's view favors you, the taxpayer, claim the deduction in accordance with the court's ruling. If your deduction is disallowed you simply will have to pay the tax you would have had to pay anyway if you hadn't deducted the expense — plus a minor amount due in interest. If also include amounts paid for the services of a chiropractor, osteopath, authorized Christian Science practitioner, etc.

cal expenses, also be sure not to overlook such other not-so-obvious expenses as: Cost of eyeglasses and hearing aids; elastic stockings, artificial teeth, braces; special mattress and bedboard for arthritis; cost of laboratory tests, X-rays and examination; special ulcer food if prescribed by a doctor and not in place of a normal diet. Include all costs you incurred to prevent or cure an illness during 1959. Deduct Other Services And just as you include amounts paid to your regular family physician or dentist, also include amounts paid for the services of a chiropractor, osteopath, authorized Christian Science practitioner, etc. But neither the Treasury

Taylor Suggests 4 'Quick Fixes' For U. S. Defenses

New War Definition, Analysis of Defense Requirements Needed

BY GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR, RET.

While it is dangerous to generalize on limited evidence, it is impossible to deny that the Soviet Union leads the United States today in such important areas as long-range missiles and certain aspects of operations in space.

I have been slow to accept the reality and significance of the so-called missile gap. Reluctantly I have concluded that there is indeed such a gap.

The Soviet Union saved money on bombers and spent it on missiles. My personal conclusion is that until about 1964 the United States is likevulnerable to surprise strikes on the easily located airfields. A surprise attack by ballistic missiles might well be followed by manned bombers possibly using low level attack techniques. In such a disaster, our civilians would suffer catastrophic losses, particularly from fallout.

Between now and 1961 the United States would appear to have a considerable advantage if not caught by surprise. If the USSR achieved a surprise blow, the survival problem on both sides would seem about even.

Serious Disadvantage

Beginning about 1961, the U.S. retaliatory force will include missiles and bombers operating from known, fixed sites in the United States. In limited compensation for this exposure, we can count on some dispersion and hardening measures and, if all goes well, on some operational Polaris missile submarines.

In this period, the USSR may be expected to have marked superiority in ICBM's, in strategic target intelligence, and in protection and concealment of its strategic strike forces. It will probably have a good anti-bomber defense and an advanced civil defense program. Under these conditions, the United States will be at a serious disadvantage in general atomic war regardless of how the first blow is struck. There are, however, ways to mitigate this advantage — if heroic measures are taken now.

In the midrange future we have seen that our protection against deliberately initiated atomic war will tend to decline. Under the changing conditions the USSR might feel a considerably greater temptation to resort to a surprise attack, to which they might in the end succumb. At the same time the possibility of general war by mistake is constantly growing as the number of atomic weapons increases each year.

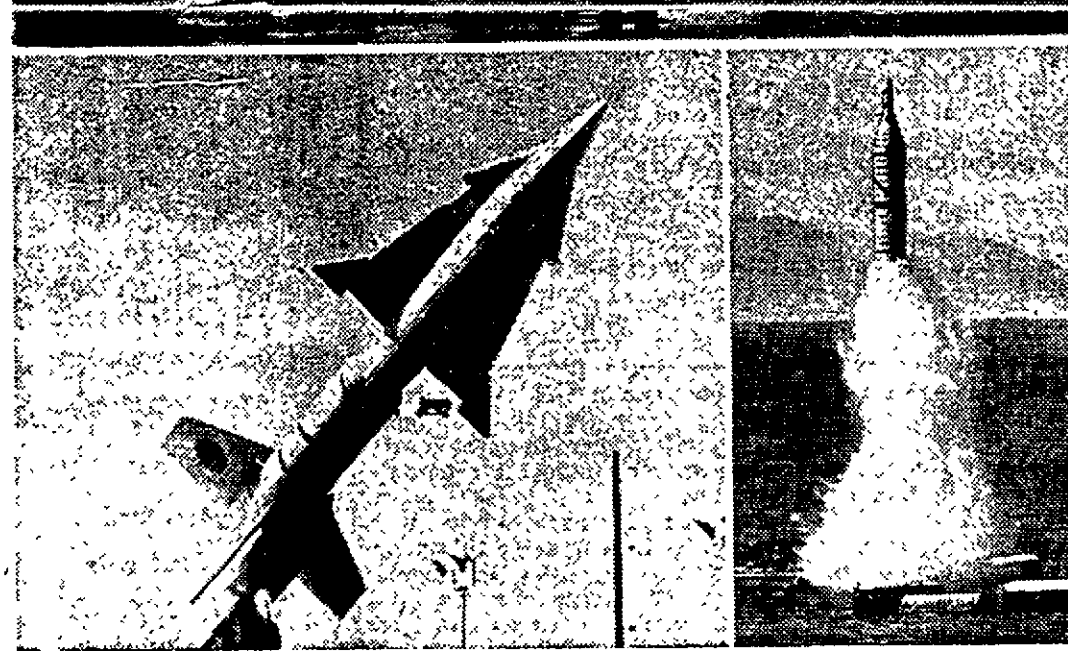

Our present capability to prevent general atomic war rests on our superiority in manned bombers, supplemented to a limited degree by guided missiles. The number of atomic delivery vehicles available to us and our allies is today overwhelming, indeed excessive. However, our superiority is a dwindling asset. If Soviet air defense missiles are as good as ours and their numbers continue to increase, very shortly our bombers will have to pay a prohibitive price to attack them.

Soviets Gaining

As the Soviets become more assured of their superiority in general war weapons, and if they sense American timidity, they may be expected to press harder than ever under the conditions of cold or limited war. How are we to meet anticipated communist provocations?

Since our disastrous demobilization in 1945, the Soviet advantage on the ground has steadily increased, except perhaps briefly during the Korean emergency. The Soviets have maintained an army of 2 1/2 million men which they have completely re-equipped since World War II with the most modern conventional and atomic weapons. This army is the symbol of ruthless communist power and a political weapon of tremendous value.

We have accustomed ourselves to saying we are hopeful. Turn to Page 2, Col. 1

Three Prime Weapons of the atomic age: The super-bombers of the air force's strategic air command; an experimental version of the army's Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile; and the navy's Polaris missile being fired from under water.

lessly outnumbered by the communist bloc. This statement as a generalization is simply not true.

Need 'Quick Fixes'

The fact is the free world has preponderant manpower in all strategic areas except the far east, and there much of the communist Chinese manpower is unusable because of logistic limitations. The free world can defend itself solely by conventional weapons if its leaders are willing to pay the price. Fortunately, the lead time of preparation required to reverse the present unfavorable balance of conventional strength does not exceed two or three years. Thus we could do something about the situation in much shorter time than we could change the balance in long range missiles and anti-missile defenses.

The United States faces a period of several years in which we will be inferior to the USSR in general war and in conventional forces. This critical disability can be offset only by the adoption at once of four "quick fixes" which will cost relatively little in time and money.

1. Improved planning and training for limited war.
2. Exploitation of the mobile intermediate range ballistic missile. (IRBM)

3. Better protection for the strategic air command.
4. A limited fall-out shelter program.

What to Do

The JCS has no approved joint plans for assembling, training and rapid outloading the limited-war forces which we have. These consist of army, navy, marine and air force units entirely unrelated to each other in planning and training.

I would favor establishing a joint headquarters similar to the strategic air force to be charged with the joint task. The army has always felt that a mobile intermediate-range ballistic missile offers great possibilities as a reinforcement to our atomic deterrent forces. Since November, 1955, it has pushed the development of the Jupiter IRBM under the able leadership of Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Dr. Werner von Braun, and his team of German-American scientists. However, in 1956, Sec. Wilson made the fatal decision to give operational control of the Jupiter to the air force. This amounted virtually to killing the program.

Jupiter Immobile

In particular the air force was opposed to giving mobility to the IRBM. Although the

Three Villages Plain Caucuses During March

Amherst — The village caucus will be at 8 p.m. March 10, in the scout hall. Trustees for two years and a Justice of the Peace will be nominated. Trustees whose terms expire this year are Gerald Yorkers, Elmer Benson and Welton Johnson, and David Hintz, justice of the peace.

A caucus for the village of Amherst Junction will be at 8 p.m. March 10, in the Village hall.

The village of Nelsonville is holding its caucus in the Village hall March 8.

Jupiter was specifically designed for field mobility. The air force in 1958 directed the Army to remove this feature completely as if it were something unholy. Whatever the cause, the IRBM is not giving the United States a return on the vast sums expended on it.

Our manned bombers on airfields known to the enemy are becoming increasingly vulnerable to surprise attack. The best we can do is to disperse the bombers over more airfields and keep the maximum feasible number on air alert. The reasonably complete protection against atomic attack on centers of government controls and of civil population is a gigantic undertaking of great expense. However, every study indicates the great advantage of very simple shelters which protect only against fall-out.

Gas Industry Studies New Appliances

Research Plans Expand With More Competition

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

New York — To meet competition the natural gas industry is stepping up research on new appliances in the home. It's also looking for more efficient and less costly use in the factory and improved operations by utilities (including manpower expense) from the gas well to the meter.

It is reaching for development of the fuel cell, thermionic and thermo-electric generation. It is looking farther into the future for a substitute for natural gas—just in case.

Competition at the moment is from oil and electricity. In the future it may be from the atom.

The research program of the American Gas association had $12 million to work with last year. It has set a goal of $8 million a year for its scientific studies.

New Developments
Fred W. Batten, chairman of the AGA general research planning committee, and vice president of the Columbia Gas System Service corporation, lists these goals:

Appliances that will automatically thaw and complete the preparation of frozen or partially baked and partially cooked foods. He thinks the solution may lie in forced convection.

Improved individual room heaters. This may help meet competition with electric room heating, and could involve research on less expensive house piping. Gas infrared burners will get more attention this year.

In both heating and air conditioning the research target is greater efficiency in smaller sizes.

Gas Sources
The research men are working on transistor techniques to produce a sharp but safe spark in a very small package without connection to electric lines. They want to generate electricity for this spark directly from gas heat.

This year scientists will step up the study of gassification of shale oil with the aim of making production of pipeline gas from coal and oil shale economically practical.

In their own back yard, the gas utilities are seeking new means of detecting leaks in pipelines. A spokesman for AGA says that isotopes, by-products of nuclear energy, could help in detecting leaks, although he doubts if atomic energy itself will be a competitor of natural gas for years to come.

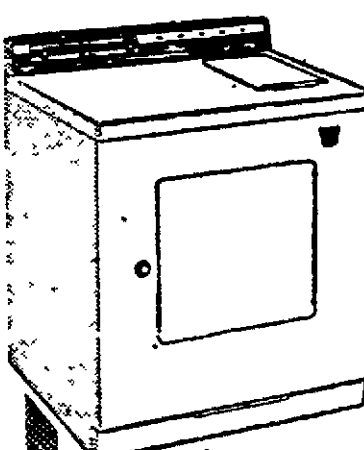

He also says the research program will spend $300,000 this year in seeking a substitute for natural gas. It may take five years to develop and a year or more after that to test.

The research crew will make further tests this year in reducing noise at regulatory or metering stations — gas isn't always as silent as you might think.

They're also looking for a better absorbent for gas air conditioners.

the lymph node being busy filtering out infection. This may be true in other cases, too, of course, for that is the basic purpose of the nodes. Still, in older people a single gland that tends to get larger should at least stir up some suspicion that some ailment other than a transient infection is at work—or, for that matter, a chronic infection.

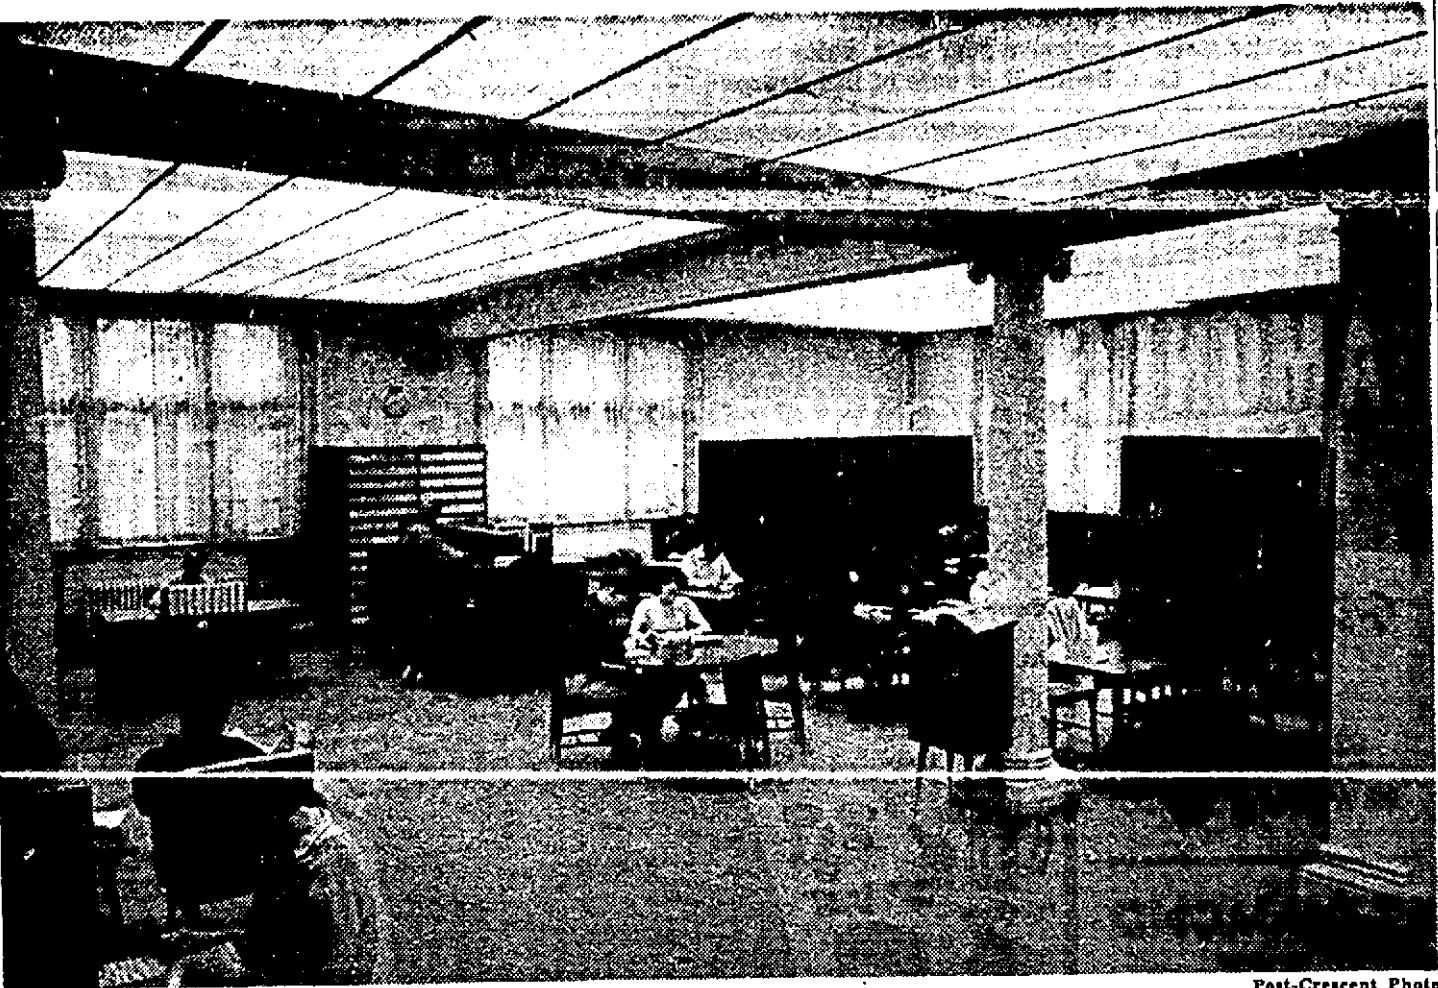

A blood count should be made, to see whether leukemia is present, for instance. If that and other investigations do not disclose the cause of the enlargement, then trace of the gland tissue should be removed (a biopsy that is) with microscopic examination to determine whether one of these other diseases of the lymph glands is present.

The lymph glands are useful organs indeed, and besides their assigned task they can (by swelling) indicate that something is wrong somewhere. But it is just as well to know that the glands themselves can fall victim to disease. That is the exception to the rule.

Fowl Inspection Ordinance Asked

Poultry Processor Points to Federal Program in Suggestion

Appleton has been asked to pass an ordinance requiring inspection of poultry by L. J. Wright, official of the Brothers Poultry Processing plant, Clintonville.

Wright points out that all poultry in interstate commerce fell under federal agriculture department inspection regulations a year ago. He wants the same sort of inspection program for poultry raised and sold locally, within state boundaries.

Out of State The city's board of health will find out from Dr. R. L. Jones, Appleton meat inspector, March 23 how much interstate and how much local poultry produced (and uninspected) is sold in the city.

animals alive before slaughtering and examination of the fowls' vital organs after slaughtering.

Found In City

Diseased poultry has been found in the city, although no explanation was given with the disclosure at Wednesday session.

In conjunction with the poultry inspection, one board member commented that buying inspected meat and poultry was a matter of educating the public.

For example, Appleton citizens who buy meat at slaughterhouses outside the city often feel that the meat has been inspected, but such is not the case. The meat and slaughtering is unregulated. Buyers should purchase nothing but federally or locally inspected meat and poultry, as indicated on labels, it was said.

Five Speakers Chosen at AHS

Boys Will Recite Extemporaneously At School Assembly

Five Appleton High school boys will participate in the Bolton-Roth extemporaneous recital at a student assembly today. They are Robert Recker, Jr., and William Barney, seniors; David Earle, junior; and Neil Stillings and Tom Stoeger, sophomores.

The participants were chosen from 25 students who spent more than a month getting material on current affairs and preparing practice speeches. Those chosen have been speaking before community groups to get experience. Recker spoke to the Toastmasters club and Stillings to a Chamber of Commerce group.

Speech topics are labor unions, United States foreign policy, the American educational system, the 1960 presidential campaign, farm surplus, disarmament, Russia and her satellites, nuclear testing, the race for space, NATO, our relations with Latin America, communism in Cuba and red China.

Topics will be chosen by lot an hour before the assembly. The speakers will be able to use notes taken in the last few weeks. The speeches will each be six minutes long.

Since 1931 the extemporaneous speaking recital has been dedicated to Ted Bolton and Carlton Roth, two 1929 graduates who lost their lives in a boating accident in Lake Winnebago. Classes of 1931 and 1932 set up the memorial.

Class Lines Fading in Free Viet Nam, Mrs. Miller Says

Class distinctions still exist, wealth, Mrs. Miller said. Shop owners and business people of the middle class may have more money than the aristocracy. The peasants are in the lowest class.

Most upper class children go to French Catholic elementary schools and lower class children to Vietnamese schools, she said. After seven years of "lyceum" or elementary schools, they receive certificates which enable them to attend the 6-year secondary schools, which offer classic and modern courses.

Most of the Vietnamese girls, Mrs. Miller said, leave after three years of secondary school and stay at home to learn homemaking. The last three years of secondary school offer philosophy, mathematics, science and English.

After Viet Nam was divided between communism and democracy along the 17th parallel, Mrs. Miller said, those in the communist north were allowed to choose whether they would move into the democratic nation. Only 850,000 of the more than 12 million north Vietnamese people moved to the south, she ex-

AMA to Make Medical Care Cost Study

$100,000 Grant Appropriated to Launch Undertaking

Chicago — A commission on the cost of medical care, to delve into every phase of medicine where cost or spending is involved, was announced by the American Medical association today. An initial grant of $100,000 was appropriated to launch the study.

"This study-project is being undertaken," said Dr. Louis M. Orr, Orlando, Fla., president of the A.M.A., "because the American public is spending increasing amounts of money for all types of medical care. These expenditures involve the peoples' lives, health, and pocketbooks. We would like to find where economies may be achieved in the best interests of the patient. The commission will analyze the cost picture from every angle and try to come up with some sound advice and suggestions."

The commission, whose members will be announced shortly, will serve as a "little Hoover commission" to study all medical care costs, including doctors' fees, hospital charges, nursing cost, drug expenditures and health insurance premiums.

Tackling Problem American medicine is "tackling the cost problem in order to help people better meet their obligations when illness strikes, and to help clarify the confusion that exists relative to such cost," Dr. Orr said.

The American Medical Association, Dr. Orr said, is "well aware that more physician - patient relationships have been strained by a misunderstanding about fees than perhaps any other disagreement. Is such misunderstanding due to lack of frank discussion between doctor and patient, or is there some other reason? A patient has every right to know why he needs treatment or surgery, what it will consist of, and what it will cost — particularly where major services are rendered."

It is hoped, Dr. Orr added, that the study will also provide some sound advice for the consumer on how to get the most benefit from his health dollar.

In conducting this study, the A.M.A. commission will Roy Essoyan, Associated Press correspondent in Southeast Asia, places a baseball cap on the head of Soviet Premier Khrushchev during a meeting in central Java. Essoyan had met Khrushchev many times before during his three years as an AP correspondent in Moscow. They chatted in Russian about the merits of American baseball caps and international goodwill tours. The premier is on a 13-day state visit to Indonesia.

Interview With Khrushchev

Red Leader in Clowning, Bubbling Mood as He Talks With Reporter

BY ROY ESSOYAN

Jakarta, Indonesia—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and I argued the merits of American baseball caps and the rigors of international good will tours this week.

The discussion, held in an Indonesian rest house near the ancient Borobudur temple in central Java, startled Soviet and Indonesian officials.

Khrushchev was at his best, clowning and bubbling with good humor. His behavior, soon after the most anti-American speech of his current southeast Asian tour, reflected his changeable disposition.

He was friendly, brusquely charming, and even shushed some of his aides who tried to warn him against my views.

Khrushchev and his party were relaxing after climbing around Borobudur, a thousand-year-old Buddhist monument whose terraces depict the life of Buddha in intricate stone carvings. The premier consult economists, health insurers, prepayment plans, hospital representatives, a cross section of patients and others whose knowledge and opinions will be helpful.

Khrushchev took another quizzical look at the cap. "Try it," I said.

Khrushchev slapped the cap on his head and posed for photographers.

"It must keep the sun off

As an Associated Press correspondent in Moscow for three years, Roy Essoyan encountered Nikita Khrushchev many times in many moods. Essoyan, now an AP correspondent in Southeast Asia, has met Khrushchev again. Here is Essoyan's account of their conversation, which was held in Russian.

very well," he said. "It looks very utilitarian."

One aide leaned over, his shoulder to warn him that I had spent three years in Russia (as an AP correspondent).

"I know," Khrushchev answered, apparently unperturbed.

"He wrote bad things about the Soviet Union," the aide persisted.

Khrushchev turned to me and asked, "What did you write?"

"I wrote what I saw," I said. "The good and the bad." "There was more bad than good," another aide interjected.

"It's all in the point of view," I said. "I don't like much of what appears in your press and you don't like much of what you read in ours. You have your views and we have ours."

Khrushchev nodded solemnly in agreement.

"We have different points of view and the only important thing is to be honest," he said.

He's Bad Armenian An aide pointed out that I was of Armenian origin but an American Armenian. The implication was that any Armenian outside the Soviet Union was not to be trusted.

Khrushchev waved the remark aside.

"It's not your origin that matters," he said. "All a mother does is to give birth. After that you mould your own future."

Khrushchev fended off any attempt to keep the conversation on a political track.

Asked how he thought the trip was going, he took it personally.

"I'm enjoying it tremendously," he replied.

I asked him if he found the trip tiring. The 65-year-old Soviet leader arrived in New Delhi nearly two weeks ago looking tired and listless. Since then he had shown occasional sparks of fire, but most of the time he looked hot and weary.

"I'm taking it fine," Khrushchev said, "much better than I had expected."

"Isn't the heat bothering you?" I asked.

"I take Sukarno's advice," Khrushchev laughed. "I dunk my head in cold water every time I get a chance and it does wonders. I don't feel tired at all."

Within an hour, Soviet newsmen on the tour bloss-

American Motors Has Record Week

Detroit — The American Motors corporation set another record for an independent automobile producer last week when it built 11,000 Ramblers in three shift operations at its Wisconsin plants.

For the year, AMC has produced 71,312 Ramblers between Jan. 1 and Feb. 20, compared with 56,169 for the like period of 1959.

Ramblers also moved up from seventh to fifth place in 1959 for the number of new automobiles registered in the United States, according to the R. L. Polk company, official statisticians to the auto industry.

Jingo Not Alone; Associated Press Among Recipients of Backers' Wrath

BY JINGO
Since misery likes company, Jingo is happy. He is not the only one who felt the wrath of Jack Paar lovers over remarks concerning the swinging door dePaarture from the "Tonight" show. So august a body as the Associated Press felt the sting also, even though all it did was to report the news and let the newspapers do with it what they would.

One writer rapped the AP because the story had appeared on the front page of his hometown paper, something over which the association has no control.
The "New York World-Telegram and Sun" splashed an 8-column headline "Paar Walk-out a Phony?" when the news broke and when the stunt developed it ran the headline "Paar to Return."

It is not hard to imagine the furor the story caused at "Newsday" in Garden City, N. Y. It headlined the agreement story "Peace in Our Time."

Jack Gould of the "New York Times" laid his finger on the real significance of the affair when he wrote that it demonstrated "television's peculiar gift for transforming a quarrel in the wings into a question of national survival."

The stunt put Paar in the company of such luminaries as Vice President Nixon and King Edward VIII.

Harriet van Horne of the "New York World-Telegram and Sun" wrote, "Television hasn't had such a night of breast baring since Richard Nixon's 'Checkers' speech."

Tom Macklin of the "Newark News" thought the incident was being treated as "the most important resignation since Edward VIII abdicated for 'The Woman I Love'."

Of course the network was swamped by Paar-siding commentators and among the more temperate epigrams was the charge that NBC suffered from pumpkinheadedness.

Gould, again, seemed to have the situation well in hand when he explained the basis of the sweeping interest.

He wrote, "The crisis appears to involve almost equal proportions of nonsense and substance, precisely the appropriate ratio for agreeable conversation in beauty parlors and commuter trains."

Mike Connolly, a Hollywood columnist, did some research into the substance of the offending joke and flushed out the fact it had been written in Germany 25 years ago as an exercise in an English composition class. He failed to find out if the story helped the student pass the course.

Hugh Downs, beaten about the head by Paar's anti-intellectual pose on the "Tonight" show, will take the spotlight as star of "World Wide 60" on March 12 on NBC when he explains "The Shape of Things" on the subject of architecture. Jingo repeats, more Downs on "Tonight" would up its standard.

Jingo's Jibe: It's a sure bet all those people who fired Paar in the past on the reasonable grounds of his lack of talent must be kicking themselves now when they read all of this fine, free publicity.

The invited audience in the general assembly hall was welcomed by Sec. Gen. Dag Hammarskjold. He saluted the Polish pianist-composer as a patriot representing the "independent and free spirit of his people" who however "in his greatest works reached universality."

In addition to the E Minor and F Minor Chopin numbers, both written in Poland but published in the 1830s after the master had settled in France, there was a contemporary piece, Symphony for Strings. It was composed by the conductor who, though unknown to this audience, has

Citizens Told Tax Deadline

Treasurer Reports Payments Lagging Behind '59 Pace

Kaukauna — Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer, issued a reminder to taxpayers Wednesday, saying they have until 4:30 p.m. Monday to pay taxes and avoid penalty. Payments are lagging far behind last year's rate with almost 700 persons still outstanding, according to the treasurer. Unless a person is paying on the 50-50 plan, which permits payment of the second half until July 31 at the county treasurer's office at Appleton, payment is required or a penalty is involved.

All personal property taxes must be paid prior to the Monday deadline. The treasurer's office will be open from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4:30 p.m. on Friday and Monday and from 9 to 12 a.m. on Saturday. Persons planning to mail tax payments to the treasurer are reminded to include tax bills with their checks as this has caused confusion on previous occasions. Check stubs will serve as receipts thus the receipt portion of the tax bill should not be detached.

City Receives $7,046 Liquor Tax Receipts

Kaukauna — Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer, reported the city had received a check from the state for $7,046.71 representing Kaukauna's share of liquor tax receipts for the last six months of 1959. The first check, received in August, was for $6,232.57 making the total for the year $13,279.28. The total received in 1958 was $10,968.80 and the amount estimated in the 1959 budget was $11,000, giving the city a surplus of $3,279. Estimated liquor tax receipts in the 1960 budget were set at $11,000, according to the treasurer.

Second District Caucus Shows Kennedy Weak

Stevenson Backers May Decide Delegate Winner

Watertown — The big second congressional district, power center of the ruling Wisconsin Democratic party, may be one of the most doubtful battlegrounds in the April presidential delegate battle of Sens. John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey. Developments here indicate that Sen. Kennedy, regarded as the favorite in the presidential preference primary balloting of Wisconsin Democrats on the whole, has some important work remaining in this district in spite of good street crowds that greeted him during a personal tour last week. A scant 37 persons, by actual count, turned out here at a "convention" called by the Kennedy campaign machine to choose democratic national convention delegates pledged to Kennedy's presidential nomination. Stevenson Poll The turn-out contrasted with about 300 at a similar rally during the weekend, at Madison, polled by the Humphrey forces which was attended by the Minnesota candidate in person. It was probably significant that the Democratic congressman from this district, Robert Kastenmeier, timed for late Monday an announcement of a poll which he said showed that Adlai Stevenson remains the leading favorite among his constituents for the nomination he won in 1952 and 1958. The congressman's tally showed Kennedy and Humphrey running fairly even, and close behind Stevenson. If it is a fair barometer of sentiment, it means the Stevenson champions here will decide whether which of the two senators wins the district. Early indications are that Humphrey has made most progress toward that goal, but Kennedy is returning for more work in the vicinity, including a campaign rally in Madison. Mayor Ivan Nestigen of Madison, the Kennedy state campaign club chief who has hitched his career to the Kennedy presidential boom, indicated here that he will be a candidate for a delegate-at-large place. He was approved by the district caucus. No other widely known party politician landed a place on the district delegate slate. The second district is the third largest in the state in voting power, and usually is watched closely because its residents include most of the current powers in current democratic state politics.

Rozelle Takes Over As Commissioner

Scheduling, TV and Conflicts With AFL are Major Problems

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR. of experienced players for the new Dallas club and (4) solving the conflicts that have arisen with the American Football league, which is scheduled to start operations next fall.

It sounds like a big assignment for a young man who won't be 34 until March 4 and still affixes "Mr." to the names of the men he has to boss.

11 Years Ago It was only 11 years ago that Rozelle came East as student publicity director and a man rooting section for the University of San Francisco. He returned Wednesday, heading for the NFL office in Philadelphia to begin full-time duty as commissioner.

Rozelle, general manager of the Los Angeles Rams, was elected a month ago after the owners had wrangled for 10 days over a successor to the late Bert Bell.

"I find a strong sentiment in our league for expansion to two 8-club divisions," he said. "But we probably won't add any more teams until we see how things work out at Dallas and Minneapolis - St. Paul. Then we'll know more about our problems."

In reply to a question whether the NFL might be considering the possibility of picking up the strongest AFL clubs if the new league should flop, Rozelle said: "No, we'll just look at what happens in our league."

old Austrian farmer and a last-minute replacement for one of his nation's disappointing aces, made two trips down the tricky, 67-gate KT22 mountain course in a total of 2:08.9 to beat his countryman, 20-year-old Hias Leitner, by 1.4 seconds in the men's slalom. The 1,935-foot course dropped 708 feet.

Grishin, a 28-year-old Army lieutenant, stumbled on his last turn but still managed to equal his world record and Olympic winning time of 1956. Bill Disney, 27-year-old rug cleaner from Alhambra, Calif., was second in 40.3 seconds. Grishin's teammate, Rafael Grad, won the bronze medal in 40.4.

Dick McDermott of Essexville, Mich., was seventh in 40.9 and Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., tied for tenth in 41.2.

In the slalom, the Americans wound up this way: ninth, Tom Corcoran, Beaconsfield, Quebec, 2:14.7 and thirty-seventh Frank Brown, McCall, Idaho, 3:01.3. Charles Ferries, Houghton, Mich., originally finished twelfth in 2:18.2, but was disqualified. Jim Barrier, of Kalispell, Montana, failed to finish the second run. He had 1:13.4 for the first descent.

There was no hope at all of the Yankees in today's two championship events — the men's 40-kilometer (24.8 miles) cross-country relay race and the men's 5,000-meter speed skating.

Dale Realty, Y's Men Cop

Advance in YMCA Men's League Cage Tournament

Y's Men and Dale Realty both advanced with wins in latest Appleton YMCA Men's league tournament action.

Y's Men beat Berggren's 65-36. The victors were topped by Bill Chandler's 16 points, Dick Cornell and Dave McMaster each tallied 13 in the Berggren's cause. Dale tripped Leath's, 85-74. High scorer for Dale was Lloyd Koehnke with 26 points. John Jooss scored 23 for Leath's.

An "All-Star" team defeated Pond's in an exhibition, 72-70. Paul Jahnko whipped in 24 for the All-Stars, Ron Bergman coined 36 for Pond's.

The Y's Men had advanced with a 49-48 win over Hoepner's in the double elimination tourney. Bill Reilly's 16 was tops in the Y's Men cause, Dick Wankey of Hoepner's scored 19. Leath's shadowed, 49-48. Victor Nelson of Pond's and Joe Perez of Leath's each came through with 17 points.

David Jenkins, world champion from Colorado Springs, Colo., slightly trailed Czechoslovakia's Karl Divin, the 1958-9 European king, and Alain Gilletti, France's reigning European titlist, after the completion of the first three compulsory figures of the men's figure skating championship.

At the end of three figures, Divin, not in Jenkins' free skating class, had 415 points; Gilletti 403; Jenkins 400.2; Tim Jackson of Canada 392.0; Don Brown of Berkeley, Calif., 389.9, and Robert Brewer of Alhambra, Calif., 380.5.

Jenkins and the hockey team were considered the only American possibilities to add to the one gold medal earned by figure skating queen Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y.

Central-Terror Clash Caps Gruelling Race

a FRVC cage race is going down to the final night. This marks the third time in the last four seasons that AHS has been on the "championship" firing line. In the 1957 finale, the Terrors nipped Sheboygan North, 59-58. In 1958, AHS was whacked by Green Bay East, 61-43, after holding a 29-19 halftime edge.

The ideally balanced Central attack has piled in points at the rate of 64.4 a game—easily the best FRVC average.

The Terrors are scoring at a 57.8 clip—fourth high in the league.

Defensively, the Terrors are well ahead of other league members—limiting their foes to an even-50 per game rate. Central has been surrendering an average of 55.9 points—only the fifth best defensive showing in the league.

AHS and Central have been the best clutch clubs down the home stretch of the contender-to-a-dec conference's race. Each has won five of six starts in the second round—and in each case, the conqueror was Manitowoc (one point over AHS and two points over Central).

The Terrors, who have not lost twice to the same team, have already averaged two of their three first-round losses. In order to make Central their third victim, the Terrors must prevail on the spacious armory court where only West has beaten Central (59-54) this season.

Four Straight Appleton, winner of four straight, has taken five of eight road games and has triumphed in its latest three foreign - court assignments. AHS' Dick Emanuel holds an 8-5 coaching edge in competition against the veteran Carl Huebner's teams.

Though Central owns none of the conference's astronomical scorers (no one in the top six) it boasts a greater number of dangerous shot-makers than any other team. Tom Posewitz is averaging 14.4 points; "Bud" Wright, 12.9; and Howie Schneider, 10.3. All are among the top 12 in the league.

In addition, Central has Dan Davies and Gary Azukas—high scorers of the first AHS game (14) and hero of last Saturday's 1-point win over West.

Appleton's tall offensive-defensive ace, Ron Abel, hit 17 points—just about his average—in the first Central game. Pete Treiber contributed a vital, 14-point relief job.

Meany Leads Over-all, Abel is averaging 17.2, third best in the circuit behind Paul Meany's 21.4 and Gene Englund's 17.8.

The Terrors' second best scorer for average is John Nussbaum with 10.9 for 10 games. Nussbaum, in the process of playing himself back into top shape after knee surgery, has become increasingly important as a playmaker.

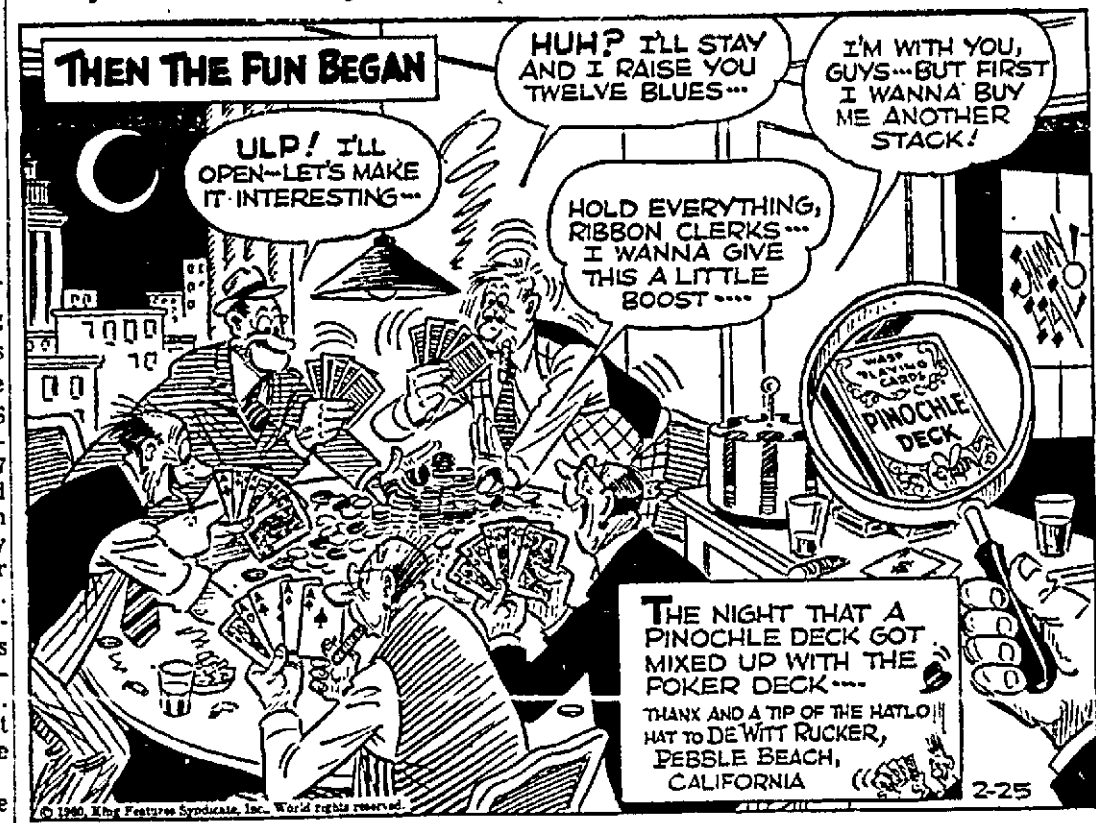

In addition, Paul Vanderheyden and Marty Schultz have found the range after inconsistent early scoring. Vanderheyden is averaging 11.5 for the last four games, while Schultz is averaging 11.7 for the three latest contests.

Guard Bob Cavert, currently AHS' No. 6 man—behind Schultz, Abel, Vanderheyden, Nussbaum and Dave LaViolette—has played an important role in recent games with his speed and aggressiveness.

Next Season Last as Coach For Howell

Giants' Mentor To Become Club's Personnel Director

New York — Next season will be the last for Jim Lee Howell as head coach of the New York Giants in the National Football league.

"I'm a naturally lazy and relaxed guy," said Howell Wednesday after dropping a surprise bombshell of his resignation at a luncheon to introduce the new NFL commissioner, Pete Rozelle.

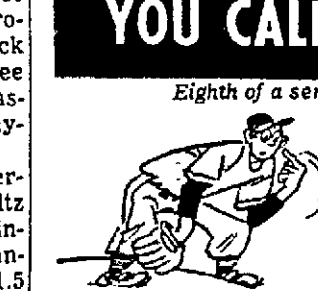

"Although we lost only three games last fall, I couldn't forget the defeats," Howell, 45, has led the club to three Eastern division championships and one world championship in six years as head coach. The Giants lost the world title to Baltimore the last two years. After next year, he'll become personnel director for the Giants. At no cut in salary, now estimated at $22,000 a year.

President Jack Mara said there would be no naming of a successor until after next season.

Philadelphia — Bob Short, owner of the Minneapolis Lakers, today called on the National Basketball association board of governors to decide the future of his club.

Short, whose Lakers are financially troubled because of small home crowds, brought the matter before the board which assembled at a special meeting to fix playoff dates.

"We may move the club to Los Angeles, but not the ownership," Short said. "Anything can happen."

A club move requires approval of six of the eight members of the board of governors.

Tiger Beats 'Ace' Again

Rallies Strongly To Deal Armstrong His Second Loss

Chicago — "Ace" Armstrong, strong-fighter, gin distillery worker and new father—also is a glib talker.

"The judges hurt me more than Dick Tiger," he said Wednesday night after losing a unanimous 10-round fight decision to Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria.

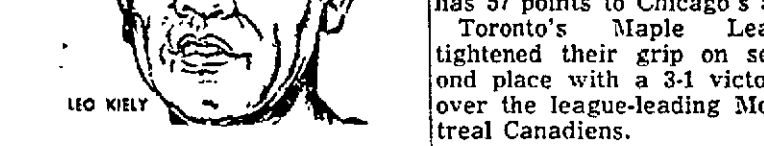

Tiger rallied strongly in the last round in a close, no-knockdown scrap in Chicago stadium.

"At Least a Tie" "I thought I deserved at least a tie," said Armstrong, a 2-1 favorite. "But you can't have everything. I've got to be happy because just this (Wednesday) morning my wife gave birth to a boy. We have two girls."

Ace, who has had only two defeats in a 20-bout pro career, also lost to Tiger last Sept. 2.

Tiger suffered a cut over his left eye and a cut lip. He also bled from the nose. After a fast start in the first four rounds, Tiger lost some of his steam and had to make an impressive showing in the last two rounds to swing the tide.

The victory gave Tiger a 37-9-2 record.

Brothers Pace Bonnies To 13th Straight Win

Tom, Sam Siith Have Combined 50.3 Average

By the Associated Press

St. Bonaventure keeps building one of college basketball's top winning streaks, while establishing Tom and Sam Siith as the most prolific brother pair on the court.

With Tom Siith nailing 29 points, including two clutch goals in the last 80 seconds, and brother Sam Siith adding 16, the Bonnies raced to their thirteenth straight Wednesday night—a 76-70 squeaker over tough Duquesne.

Now 16-3 and tenth-ranked nationally, the Bonnies have only to negotiate Niagara, St. Vincent (Pa.) and Canisius to carry a string of 16 into the NIT opening March 10.

At the same time, the Siith brothers from Brooklyn have just about wrapped up the title of the highest scoring brother pair in all major college history.

Tom, a 6-5 junior, has a 31.8 average while Sam, a 6-2 senior and a brilliant playmaker, is averaging 19.5—a brother pace of 50.3. The NCAA service bureau's records show only four high scoring brother acts in the last 25 years with Johnny and Eddie O'Brien of Seattle the record family pair with a combined 45.1 per game average in 1953.

Villanova and Dayton, Villanova NIT teams, added victories while St. Joseph West (11-6), Hortonville (14-3), (Pa.) and Kansas State Manitoewoc (11-6), Nenah (12-5), Shawano 13-6). Manty dropped from a tie for sixteenth while Sheboygan Central moved up from the special mention group.

Mantle May Be Holdout For 1st Time

Dallas, Tex. — Mickey Mantle is standing pat in a quiet tug of war over contract terms with the New York Yankees.

He may even be a holdout this season for the first time in his baseball career, the slugging Yankee outfielder said Wednesday.

The New York club's infielders and outfielders are due to report by next Tuesday at the Yankee spring training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla. Technically, Mantle wouldn't be considered a holdout, however, until they take to the field a day later.

The Yankees mailed him a contract Jan. 20 calling for a pay cut. Mickey wanted it right back the same day.

"They cut me more than I thought they ought to," he said.

Since then neither side has made a public move. The word among baseball men was that the Yankees proposed to pay Mantle $15,000 less than the $75,000 he drew last season.

Dressen to Tell Braves Friday: 'You're Going To Play My Way'

Expects 30 or More To Report for Opening of Drills

Bradenton, Fla. — Manager Charlie Dressen begins riding hard over the Milwaukee Braves' batterymen Friday and is prepared to tell them "you are going to play my way."

The new boss of the Milwaukee National league baseball club said, as he prepared to meet the pitchers, catchers and a few others, that "I have some very definite ideas about running the team."

"They will be told immediately," he said Wednesday "that they are going to play my way."

"They will be told to forget their failure to win a year ago and to concentrate on taking it all this time. Most of them are new to me and we are starting out all even. We are starting from scratch, as individuals and as a team."

Dressen expects 30 or more men to report for the start of practice Friday. Only the batterymen are required to be on hand but a dozen or more candidates for other posts are expected.

Big Lew said that he was holding out for a raise in pay. Burdette, who had a 21-15 record last year, said that the club had restored the salary out originally offered him.

"The terms are now about the same as last year's," he said, "but I believe I am justified in requesting a boost in pay."

Nothing has been heard from Warren Spahn, the Braves' top lefthanded hurler who also is trying to get more money before he signs a contract.

The Braves announced Wednesday that they had signed Ray Fisher, who at 73 is regarded as the oldest man in baseball, as a pitching consultant.

Mel Roach, who was handicapped most of the 1959 season with a bad knee, reported that his leg was in good shape now and he planned to make a fight for the second base post.

Bob Hartman, Kenosha lefthander, who also has been working out for some time, reported that he had lost 31 pounds as a result of a special diet. He weighs 183 pounds, down from a high of 214.

(B) — Kiely walks Bauer intentionally. He then strikes out Siebert to end the inning. Boston wins 5-4 in the 12th on Frank Malzone's home run (April 19).

Vikes Conclude Cage Campaign

couldn't get the big bucket when we needed it."

Compounding Boya's unhappiness was the fact that his club had one of its poorest practices of the season Tuesday.

Wolf Gone

Loren Wolf missed Monday on a band trip. Boya expected him back in plenty of time to leave for Northfield this morning for tilts with Carleton Friday and St. Olaf Saturday.

The other half of Lawrence's current 1-2 scoring punch, "Chuck" Knocke, re-injured a shoulder Tuesday. Those problems, and the absence from the scene of most of the freshmen — who have completed their season—cancelled plans for a scrimmage.

Weekend prospects for a victory, or two, don't make Boya's mood any brighter. Winning on the road is tough enough for Lawrence, which broke a 45-game road losing skein at Ripon earlier this season.

It's being said more and more often by Midwest conference coaches, that winning a game in Northfield presents more than the ordinary number of problems for visiting clubs. Cries of "homer" officiating at Carleton and St. Olaf are getting louder.

Beaten Twice

Last week, for example, powerful Knox was beaten twice from the free throw line by mediocre Carleton and St. Olaf quintets, in Northfield. The losses were just the third and fourth of the season, in 20 starts, for the Siwashers, who have clinched a title.

In the 77-64 loss to St. Olaf, Knox counted 27 field goals to 23 for the Oles but was outshot from the foul line, 31-10.

"And, Knox usually isn't a rough ball club," Boya observes. Lawrence Swimming Coach Gene Davis was in Northfield for a pair of meets last weekend and he reports that Siwashers Pilot Frank Adams, usually a reasonable sort, was fit to be tied over the refereeing.

Solid Monmouth, too, was upset by St. Olaf and just managed to squeak past Carleton last weekend.

Can Improve

If the Vikings achieve the near-impossible and beat both St. Olaf and Carleton they can improve on their current ninth place position. But they'd have to have outside help from either Ripon or Coe.

A Ripon victory over St. Olaf Friday, and a Coe triumph over Grinnell Saturday, and two Lawrence wins would boost the Vikes into a seventh place tie in final standings. If the Vikings split they are doomed to ninth place no matter what happens to the Oles and Grinnell.

Lawrence starters this weekend once more will be chosen from a group of six including: Knocke, Wolf, Jim Schulze, Jim Rasmussen, John Van Meter and Joe Lamers. Schulze had his poorest weekend as a varsityman Friday and Saturday, according to Boya.

Was Sensational

"But, he was sensational in both the second Ripon and Beloit games," the coach remembers. "All our other boys have been inconsistent this season, too. Their troubles, as individuals, have made for inconsistent team performance."

John Van Meter, the 6-5 Springfield (Ill.) sophomore, is one fellow whose lack of steadiness Boya excuses. "It's because he's just a sophomore. He's really eager to learn."

Van Meter's scored 36 in the last three contests including a great, 22-point burst against Ripon.

Lawrence tripped St. Olaf, 54-54, in Appleton. Knocke topped the hosts with five baskets and 11 of 16 free throws. Husky Dave Hindermann, a 6-4 soph, and Karl Groth, (6-3) scored 16 and 13 for the losers.

Carleton downed the Vikes, 72-59, in Appleton. The Knights' Ivan Grimm (6-8) poured home 20 before fouling out and Phil Pennell tallied 19. Knocke also had 21 to lead Lawrence.

Nelson Lauds State's Civil Defense Plan

Legislation to be Implemented With "All Due Speed"

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson described Wisconsin's new civil defense act Wednesday as one of the most comprehensive in the nation.

All "due speed" is being exercised, he told a meeting of county civil defense directors, to implement the legislation.

Nelson said the state's plan involves action on three broad fronts, and described them as:

The appointment of a civil defense council to administer state preparations to meet military emergencies.

The assignment of civil defense responsibilities to various state agencies under terms of the Wisconsin operational survival plan.

The designation of the branch offices of existing state agencies as regional civil defense headquarters in an attempt to speed development of the "area concept" of civil defense.

Nelson said the area concept approach divides Wisconsin into a total of 10 areas. They include the Milwaukee, Madison, Green Bay and Superior target areas; surrounding reception areas in the northwest, northeast, southeast and southwest; and two support areas in the central and north central parts of the state.

The Milwaukee target area consists of Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington, Waukesha, Walworth, Racine and Kenosha counties, while the other three target areas are Dane county (Madison), Douglas county (Superior) and Brown county (Green Bay).

The four reception areas consist of seven to eleven counties surrounding these four target areas.

Another 22 counties, running from La Crosse northwest to the upper Michigan border, are divided into the central and north central support areas, which will provide whatever help is necessary to adjoining reception areas.

Nelson said the three steps should not be "underrated, even though state finances don't permit us to move as rapidly as many would wish."

Youth to Face Local Charges Warrants Naming David Spanbauer Taken to Green Bay

Five warrants charging attempted rape, burglary, armed robbery and theft were taken to Green Bay today by Appleton police for inclusion in Monday morning's arraignment of David Spanbauer, 19, Oshkosh.

Outagamie County Dist. Atty. George Greisch signed the warrants this morning.

The arraignment is scheduled for 9 a. m. before Municipal Judge Donald Gleason. Spanbauer also was named in a Winnebago county warrant charging him with armed robbery.

Spanbauer has admitted the attempted rape of a 12-year-old Appleton girl. He also has told police of several break-ins and thefts in Appleton.

Spanbauer Wednesday waived preliminary hearing when he was arraigned in Green Bay on three charges growing out of his sexual assault on a 16-year-old baby-sitter and the shooting of her employer, Alton Cardinal, at the latter's home Jan. 12.

The attempted rape of the Appleton girl took place the same night.

Lee Says Youths Suffer In Drive for Success

Minister Cites Strong Pressure In Appleton for All to be 'Best'

A philosophy that enables people to adjust to the possibility of being second best is one of things scout leaders can contribute to youth, the Rev. H. Shelby Lee, pastor of First Congregational church said last night.

Lee

The Rev. Mr. Lee indicated this is especially needed in Appleton, where everyone has to be successful to be accepted in the community.

Speaking at a dinner honoring Appleton Boy Scout leaders, he pointed out not everyone can be president, and young people should be prepared to afford the experience of not being top brass.

The Rev. Mr. Lee, who has lived in four states, said today Appleton is unique in that a man almost has to be a hero to be accepted into the community program.

Book Subject

He said Appleton, as a community, could be compared to Vance Packard's "Status Seekers," and added he has never before lived in a community that so constantly pushes its members to be at the very top.

Young people have to learn life is not bad just because they are C and not A students, he said.

The pastor said they have to be willing to accept the possibility of rejection, criticism or failure.

Scout leaders, he said, are very important men in boys' lives and as such are given a responsibility in their training and guidance.

He cited the ability to accept being what might be considered a failure as one of three current needs of youth.

Affirm Life

Boys also should be prepared to affirm life and approach it with a positive attitude. They should stand before life and declare it to be good, rather than approaching it as something futile.

Youth also should be prepared to be hospitable to new ideas, he added. The people of the earth are now closer together, and change is a fact of our time, so it is important to accept new ideas and new people to prevent an individual from "crystallizing," the pastor said.

Offer Proposal to Adjust Milk Supplies to Demand

Madison — A plan for adjusting milk supplies to demand in order to protect dairy farm income has been proposed by a team of University of Wisconsin agricultural specialists.

The proposal resulted from a request Gov. Gaylord Nelson made last May of Dr. Conrad A. Elvehjem, university president.

A proposed national supply plan is the first installment of the committee's findings. Later the committee plans re-supply of and the demand for milk."

The report noted that milk surplus in recent years is relatively small compared with wheat and corn surpluses and added:

"In spite of its small size, its price depressing effects are substantially due to the inelastic demand for milk."

The committee proposed that a marketing base be assigned to each producer to reflect production in the previous year or two. A fee sufficiently high to discourage surplus production would be levied upon each producer who markets milk in excess of his base.

Fight Obscenity, Say Teens, Adults

Speaker Points to Problem Here; Girl Calls for Adult Guidance

After discussing the problem of obscene matter being sent and sold to children, adults at a forum Wednesday night supported a 16-year-old girl's suggestion that teenagers, with adult backing and guidance, lead a fight against obscenity through boycott and other means.

The publication of obscene material is a multimillion dollar business, said Mrs. George N. Mueller, Milwaukee, guest speaker at the joint Appleton Woman's club and James Madison Parent-Teacher association meeting.

About half the pornography is on the newsstands, she said; one fourth is sent through the mails, and one fourth is in films, pictures, etc.

"The majority of us don't want that kind of literature," said 16-year-old Judy Hantschel, Kimberly, a junior at St. John High school in Little Chute. She called on adults to help teenagers boycott coke and malt shops that sell obscene books and magazines.

If adults would work with teenage clubs, they could have "a booming organization," Miss Hantschel said.

Mrs. Mueller, Appleton Woman's club President Mrs. H. J. Weller and parents in the audience agreed that it was "a marvelous idea."

On Appleton Newsstand Mrs. Mueller said she found some obscene publications on an Appleton newsstand Wednesday, although it was high up so it could not be seen easily. The situation on Appleton newsstands reportedly has improved in recent years, she added, "but it's obvious there's a little of it left."

An Appleton mother complained just yesterday that her son had received an ad through the mail for a book about sex, reported Walter T. Fox, Madison Junior High principal. The book's table of contents was "almost indescribable," Fox said.

Nine-tenths of the mailed obscenity is not ordered by the people who receive it, Mrs. Mueller said. When children send for mail-order toys, their names get on lists that are sold to pornography dealers. Free "teaser items" often are sent first, she explained, and as with narcotics, soon people are willing to pay for obscenity.

AHS Grads are Target Fox said that although Appleton High school does not give out lists of graduates' names and addresses, recent graduates have been the target of unorderly obscene material.

Mrs. Mueller recently saw a post office exhibit of pornography that had been mailed. "It would make your hair stand on end," she said. Pictures of nude men made no pretense of being artistically done, she said. They showed "lovely young girls who just sat and sprawled."

The obscenity problem, Mrs. Mueller said, is that "these things present abnormal situations in a normal light."

It is difficult to define obscenity, Mrs. Mueller said, suggesting that citizens ask of a doubtful item, "Is it below the level of community morality?"

She urged the audience to save the envelope and contents of any obscene material mailed to them and to report it to the post office. She also called for stronger laws to make a jail sentence mandatory for people who mail obscenity.

Byrnes Promoting Laird As Convention Chief

Wisconsin Legislator Not Sure of Success but Will Give It Good Try

BY RICHARD P. POWERS
Associated Press Special Service

Washington — Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.) is promoting Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.) for chairman of the platform committee at the Republican national convention in Chicago in July.

Byrnes said he doesn't know how successful he will be, but says he is giving it a good try.

"I am putting the idea into the heads of Republican members of congress," Byrnes said. "I am asking those who like the idea to write to their national committeemen and committeewomen suggesting Laird for that job."

Byrnes said he expected the national committee to make the selection sometime in May.

Both Byrnes and Laird are close personal friends of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the apparent Republican nominee for president, who unquestionably will have an important voice in selection of the convention leaders.

Byrnes said others undoubtedly will be suggested to head the important platform committee. But he said he has not heard any other house member mentioned for the post.

Club Members
Both Byrnes and Laird are expected to be among the 30 Wisconsin delegates pledged to Nixon.

Byrnes, Laird and Nixon are members of the Chowder and Marching club, which started as an informal group of house Republican members which get together occasionally to discuss pending legislation. It now has developed into a legislative-social group.

Byrnes said the fact that Nixon will have no major opposition in the April 5 Wisconsin presidential primary will tend to keep the Republican vote at a minimum.

Show Support
"I hope the people who are for Nixon will show their support for him by voting for him in the primary, even though there is no contest," Byrnes said. "However, the chances are there will be a light vote in the Republican primary."

Byrnes' backing of Laird for the convention post is important since Byrnes is chairman of the house Republican policy committee. In this position he is the party's No. 2 man in the house, second only to House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Humphrey's Wife To Visit Appleton

Appleton and Oshkosh are among the stops scheduled by Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, who will visit Wisconsin to campaign for her husband, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, a candidate in the state April 5 presidential primary.

Mrs. Humphrey will be in Wisconsin-Feb. 26 to March 3. A reception will be held for her at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Raulf hotel, Oshkosh. She will be interviewed on an Appleton radio station at 5:30 p.m. that day.

City Tax Payments Over $2.9 Million

Of Total $5 Million
Appleton taxpayers have paid City Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein $2,911,730 so far this year, slightly more than the $2,830,760 they had paid by this time last year.

Total taxes to be paid this year are nearly $5 million. Feuerstein's office will be open for tax payments between 5 and 8 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. and noon Saturday, plus the regular 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday hours.

Deadline for payments not made under the installment plan is Monday.

Engineering Opportunities

We are a fast-growing paper manufacturer located in northeastern Wisconsin. Our engineers handle interesting work with a lot of variety and plenty of opportunity to use their own discretion and judgment.
Because of our rapid growth, we do not have time to increase our engineering staff by hiring new graduates and training them. We are interested in recent graduates but we also want to find experienced men who can produce quickly. If you are an ambitious engineer in either category and want to get ahead faster and farther than your present job permits, this may be just the opening you are looking for. We need qualified men in the following fields:

Mechanical Engineers
Electrical Engineers
Chemical Engineers
Draftsmen

In addition to excellent starting salaries, we offer a well-rounded employee benefit program with group life and group hospital and surgical insurance paid for by the company and an outstanding profit-sharing retirement plan.

If you are interested, please write us, giving your complete personal and business history, which will be held in strict confidence.

NEWS of the FOX CITIES BUSINESS & INDUSTRY

Adrian Kemps, 730 E. Randall street, has been promoted to cutter and trimmer foreman in the finishing department of Appleton Coated Paper Company.

Arnold Heinzel, 808 W. Hawes avenue, was named packing foreman. The two positions were created when an addition to the finishing department was completed. Gilbert Wendt is finishing department foreman.

A. H. Kiefer, a 1944 graduate of Appleton High school, has been elected president of the Art Directors Association of Appleton for 1960. The youngest man ever to take the position, he is art director with Fuller and Smith and Ross, Inc., a Pittsburgh agency.
